

WHAT PROMPTED Hugh McDonald, American, to fight in a war not involving the direct safety of the United States?

The question was put to him Wednesday evening at a cocktail gathering in Dixon prior to his appearance as a speaker in Sterling. McDonald, a fiery redhead born and raised in California and currently residing in New England with a wife and three children, fought in the Israeli campaign for independence.

I asked, point blank, whether he did it because of altruism or because of the money involved.

He smiled when I mentioned the "almighty" dollar and said that the monetary theory was a common, but erroneous conception of many Americans.

"It cost me about $2,000 to go over there and help," McDonald said.

He added that the Israeli forces had no money to pay for outside help and hardly enough for guns and ammunition.

However, he admitted that he did receive some pay as an Israeli soldier, the base pay of an infantryman... $9 a month. McDonald ruled out the soldier of fortune idea.

HE EXPLAINED that he was inspired to help the Jews create a nation of their own while studying law at Harvard university after World War II, in which he was a veteran bombardier in the Army Air Force.

Fellow students of Jewish background convinced him of the worthiness of the Jewish cause and the need for his talents in navigation learned during the last war, he explained.

After studying a year and a half at Harvard, McDonald left for Europe on a ship destined to transport refugees from the continent to Israel. It started, at first, as a three month vacation, but lasted almost two years.

HE WAS NOT the only American to help in the Israeli fight, McDonald said, as the greater part of his ship's crew were former United States sailors. Most of them were of Jewish descent. However, a few, like himself, were Catholics of Irish descent.

Twice McDonald was imprisoned by the British during the months of blockade running aboard the refugee ship "Hatikvah" and as a demolitionist in the Israeli infantry. And, both times, he escaped.

IT WAS DURING his imprisonment that he became aware of the need for an independent nation for Jews without a country, McDonald contended.

And since, he has tended to dedicate himself to that cause. His appearance in Sterling last night was to help sell bonds for Israel, an effort by the new nation which has received little sympathy in this country.

Israel's goal two years ago was to float 500 million dollars worth of bonds in order to establish industry to absorb the country's unemployed. To date, the drive hasn't reached the 300 million mark, McDonald said.

Given as a reason for the comparative lack of success is the fact that nations and financiers have never looked favorably on a bond drive by an individual nation that exceeded 50 billion dollars.

McDONALD VISITS Israel during summers, since his return to the United States after being separated from the Israeli army because of a splintered vertebra. He was injured in hand-to-hand combat with Arab forces.

FROM PERSONAL observation, Israel today is a nation politically inclined toward a cross between America's conservative Democrat and liberal Republican, he contended.

And along the political fence is a 10 per cent minority of firm believers in a Jewish nation governed primarily on the basis of the Old Testament. Their's is a life guided primarily by what the Bible dictates, he said.

To them, Israel today is the nation, prophesied in the Old Testament, in which the Jews would gather for the appearance of a redeemer. Politics is an insignificant part of their life, McDonald said.

The Israeli people today live in extremely modest conditions but are not as bad off as the American stereotype depicts them and most refugees... hungry, shelterless, and yearning to come to America, he added.

School Board Defers Planning Aid Request

'No Funds,' Is Answer to Plea by Planning Group

The Dixon school board told members of the Dixon Planning commission Wednesday night that it would take under consideration a request to give financial aid to the commission.

Five members of the commission and Mayor Slothower appeared at the school board meeting to make the request.

In supporting the planning commission's request for funds from the school board, Slothower pointed out that the city council has pledged $5,000 toward a two-year research project of the commission and that all other taxing bodies in the city are being asked for donations to provide the commission with a total of about $10,000.

Gives "Moral Support"
Dr. Leslie Hinkle, school board member, told the commission: "I believe you have our moral support right now. I'm confident your commission can benefit the city. But we will have to take time to discuss among ourselves whether we can give you financial aid."

"It's something like trying to get blood out of a turnip to ask us for money at this time," Francis (Frank) Henry, board member, commented.

Henry pointed out that the board had not had sufficient funds to raise salaries of veteran teachers here for the next school term. Other members of the board supported Henry's contention that the board already is hard-pressed for funds to operate its own affairs.

All Hard-Pressed
Slothower replied that all governing bodies today are hard-pressed for money.

He said that the board was not being asked for any specific amount. He declared that since the city had already assumed at least half the cost of the commission's work other taxing bodies ought to be able to assume the balance of the cost.

He said that with the professional advice which the commission could obtain with $10,000, a "master plan" of city development could be provided for Dixon.

E. M. Greene, commission member said that Sterling and Rock Falls have obtained the professional advice for their planning commissions which is needed here, and that those cities have reported assumed active floor leadership of Republican senate forces because of the hip ailment of Sen. Taft (R-Ohio), voiced "hope and faith in the ultimate good judgment" of President Rhee.

Knowland said he believed that Rhee would see that to keep his Korean troops fighting alone would "create an impossible situation—it would merely play into Communist hands."

Knowland said he believed that this country's repeated pledge to strive for the unification of North and South Korea would, in the end, persuade Rhee and other Korean patriots to stand by and await the outcome of peace negotiations.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) said today this government should demand firmly of Britain and France at the approaching Bermuda conference that they support America's insistence on the unification of Korea.

Knowland, addressing the Washington conference of the Machinery and Allied Products Institute, said he believed this country should tell the Bermuda conferees:

"Until we get a Korean peace treaty and are able to carry out the United Nations mandate for unification, we are not going to sit down with Malenkov at a Big Four conference."

"I believe that the British and the French are so anxious for a Big Four meeting that they will go along."

Knowland suggested that such solidarity, expressed at Bermuda, would help persuade President Syngman Rhee of Korea to cooperate in the pending cease-fire agreement.

U. S. Has Role In Developing Resources: Ike

RIVERDALE, (AP)—President Eisenhower said today the federal government must work in partnership with state and local governments and private industry to develop the nation's natural resources.

Addressing a crowd of about 5,000 persons at the ceremonies marking a stage of completion of the federally-financed 305 million dollar Garrison dam, the President said construction of the huge project by the federal government was "something people here could not do for themselves."

He said the federal government must participate under such circumstances, but that the states and communities also have an important role in developing such flood control and power projects, wherever possible.

Private industry, too, has an important role and "when that function disappears, then we will be under some form of alien government."

No New Autos
The committee turned down all requests for the purchase of new automobiles. It said the agencies can get along with what they have.

Heavy cuts from Truman-requested funds for the AEC included 20 million in the weapons program, $15,700,000 in the source and fissionable materials program, and 22½ million in the reactor development program.

The entire $26,565,000 requested by Truman for the AEC biology and medicine program was approved. But his request for $16,282,000 for security investigations was trimmed to $13,112,000.

The AEC plant and equipment program was allotted 166 million, a cut of $270,371,000 from the Truman request.

House Group Slashes AEC, VA Budgets

TVA, Selective Service Also Hit By Economy Wave

WASHINGTON (AP)—The house appropriations committee today recommended a slash of $1,171,389,000 from new funds requested by former President Truman for the atomic energy commission, the selective service system, the veterans administration and the Tennessee Valley authority.

It sent to the House floor for debate next week a bill to appropriate $5,284,369,664 for these four agencies for the fiscal year starting July 1.

This is 18 per cent less than Truman requested in his January budget and about 6 per cent below the revised budget of President Eisenhower.

AEC Funds Cut
Heaviest reduction was the $535,008,000 chopped from the Truman request for the Atomic Energy Commission. All but about $8 million was trimmed from the Truman budget by the Eisenhower administration before the committee acted.

The committee recommended six million dollars more than Truman had requested and exceeded the Eisenhower estimates by 31 million in its allotment for maintenance and operation of veterans' hospitals. The big cuts in the Veterans' Administration budget were in funds for readjustment benefits and for pensions and compensations.

No New Autos
The committee turned down all requests for the purchase of new automobiles. It said the agencies can get along with what they have.

Let Equipment Contracts For Dixon's New Schools

Board Also Approves Coal Bids; Hears Pleas for Retarded Children

Conditional contracts totaling more than $70,000 were awarded by the school board Wednesday night for furnishings in the city's two new schools.

Other action at the meeting included a request for the board to apply for the state's program for training retarded children. Contracts for supplying coal to Dixon schools also were granted.

Retain Option
In awarding contracts for furnishings at Jefferson and Washington schools, the board retained an option in granting six of the seven contracts to Lindquist Construction Co., Dixon, on a combined bid of nearly $62,600.

The seventh contract was awarded Moline Furniture Co., Moline, on its apparent low bid of $9,300 for supplying special case and cabinet work.

Only one other firm, Crown Co., bid on the special case and cabinet work, quoting a price of $12,189.

According to T. J. Strong, Urbana, architect for the local school board, Lindquist's bid was low for the combined six contracts. Four other firms bidding, none of them from Dixon, did not offer combined bids.

Awarding the six contracts individually would have cost more than accepting Lindquist's combined bid, Strong advised.

The board retained an option in Lindquist's contracts to buy elsewhere all but 57 of 2,237 student desks included in one contract he bid on.

Others Desirable
The option was included so that Lindquist's bid on the total number of desks could be retained by the board in the event the board could not reach a satisfactory contract for another type of desk which it believed more desirable than those offered by Lindquist.

The board referred to its educational committee for further consideration a request by Mrs. Carroll Boston, 718 E. Morgan st., to apply for the state's "pilot training program for retarded children."

The "pilot training" program was described as teaching for monthly retarded children in a program to be set up by the state at specific, or pilot, sections of the state.

Provides Aid
A bill passed May 19 by the state legislature provides two-thirds state financial support toward salaries of teachers employed in the pilot training program, with school boards of districts where the program is established providing the rest of the salaries.

The bill also specifies that school boards applying for the program must make application between June 16 and July 1.

Mrs. Boston, who heads a parent group here sponsoring an independent school for retarded children in this area, said the state's financial aid offered in the pilot training program is needed here.

She asked the board to apply for the program, or if the board felt it could not provide the facilities which would be required of it to obtain the program, that the board provide the independent school with financial help in the future.

Needs Time
In taking the request under consideration, the board asserted that the application period provided little time for it to consider all of the aspects to be studied.

A recommendation by the principals and teachers on books to be purchased for rental to students was accepted.

Dixon Ice & Fuel Co. was awarded contracts for providing coal to all local schools but the high school.

Contracts for the high school would be granted O. B. Gerlach & Sons, Dixon.

Measure Is Locked in Committee

Sen. Knowland Gives Forecast of Senate Actions This Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Knowland of California, acting Republican senate leader, today tabbed extension of the excess profits tax—one of President Eisenhower's major requests to congress—as definitely doubtful.

Knowland omitted mention of it in a forecast of prospective Senate actions this session. Asked by reporters about the omission, Knowland said the tax extension was "not necessarily dead."

But it is tied up in the House Ways and Means Committee, Knowland observed, adding that he was "frankly not certain" it would emerge from either House or Senate action.

Knowland said if the bill did come out of committee he thought it stood a better than 50-50 chance of enactment.

Expires June 30
The tax is a special levy on corporations, intended to drain in to the U. S. Treasury the major part of any extra profits they may make as a result of business stimulation from government defense spending.

It is now due to expire June 30. Asking that Congress continue it for six months, President Eisenhower suggested that failure to extend it might make it inadvisable to permit a 10 per cent reduction in individual income taxes which is to become effective Jan. 1 under present law.

Knowland shouldered active floor leadership of the Senate GOP forces Wednesday, taking over the job from Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) who is suffering from a painful hip ailment and has been ordered by his physicians to cut down on his activity.

Knowland's appraisal of the legislative outlook was made in an address to the Machinery and Allied Products Institute's annual conference here.

May Adjourn July 31
Saying the Senate still hopes to complete its work and adjourn by July 31, Knowland predicted passage of these portions of President Eisenhower's legislative program:

Extension of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act, mutual security administration legislation, Hawaiian statehood, the simplification of customs, wheat shipments to Pakistan, and the 12 appropriation bills.

This listing omitted revision of the Taft-Hartley Labor Act and broadening of social security as well as extension of the excess profits tax.

Noting these omissions, reporters at the meeting asked whether they should be considered dead for this session.

Knowland said none was "necessarily dead" and went on to make his specific remarks about the tax legislation.

Taft-Hartley revision, social security extension and the restoration of factory inspections under the food and drug laws are similarly tied up, he said, and may have to lay over until the next session.

Tax Board Ready to Hear Objections on Assessments

The Lee county board of review announced Wednesday that it is ready to accept objections to current county tax assessments.

According to Miss Eleanor E. Powell, clerk of the review board, the office is now open in the Lee county courthouse.

The scheduled office hours are from 9 a.m. to noon and 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. each week day except Saturday.

Complaints to receive attention this year must be filed with the board by July 31, 1953.

A complaint filed with the county board of review is the first step required in efforts to have grievances taken under consideration.

Complaints not filed with the board of review by the deadline cannot be given consideration by the courts unless it can be proven that there is the element of fraud involved in the assessment.

The board is composed of E. F. Barnes, chairman; George A. King, secretary; and Edward A. O'Malley, member.

Truce May Ease Some Current Record Prices

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—A Korean truce may help to ease some of the present record high prices, but the continuing costs of an all but global defense program will keep them high.

The war started in June, 1950, when the American economy was already booming along, after recovering from the 1949 recession. Since then the story has been of boom upon boom, until recent weeks.

Wages and prices chased each other upstairs. Weekly factory earnings are at an all-time high, and workers will try hard to keep them from slipping back.

Debt Soars
Personal income totals have soared with the war. Farm income has slipped back, but only after farmers had known their best income days. Farm income is now stabilizing under price supports.

Debt has soared along with prices and income. The federal debt is threatening to punch through the legal ceiling.

Corporate debt has mounted as industry put on its greatest expansion spurge to meet both defense and civilian needs. Bank loans to business are at a record high for this time of year.

Savings Risen
Private debt, particularly installment debt, is perched on a record peak, to the worry of some economists. At the same time, savings have risen, too, with swelling wage and salary checks.

More people have jobs than ever before at this time of year. Shortages—notably of engineers—pinpoint the demand for skill which the defense program has sparked.

Perhaps the greatest economic effect of the war on the American people has been inflation. It has sapped the buying power of their dollar. While this has halted of late, few think the dollar will again buy as much as it did formerly.

Effort to Control
Americans will feel the effect of the Korean war inflation for many years, in reduced real value of their savings, their pensions, their insurance.

The nation is now starting the throes of an effort to control inflation. This has meant rising interest rates, rising yields on bonds and mortgages, and falling prices on government and corporate bonds. It has meant tightening money supply, and squawks from businessmen and farmers who find it hard to borrow money—and much more expensive, too.

SHE WEIGHS 6048 PENNIES—Judith Arlene Jennrich, 4, of Chicago, Ill., is the 10,000th youngster to open an account at a branch of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association and is told her weight in pennies. Morton Bodfish, chairman of the bank, shown with her, advertised that the 10,000th youngster to open an account would get either his weight in pennies or 10,000 pennies, whichever was more. Judith took the $100.

Many of these marks of the Korean war will last. Not because it was such a big war, but because it set off a big defense program, which will continue even if stretched out at a lower level.

Prince Acquitted

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Prince Abbas Halim, a cousin of ex-King Farouk, and 10 other defendants were acquitted today in the arms fraud case which has troubled Egypt since the 1948 war with Israel.

The only two defendants who were found at fault were a colonel and a lieutenant colonel who were fined 100 pounds ($288) apiece.

Honor Explorer

LUANDA, Portuguese Angola (AP)—A long forgotten old man has suddenly become the center of a dispute of generosity between Belgian Congo and Angolan newspapers. He is Manuel Nunes Teixeira, the last surviving companion of the great Stanley. Teixeira was taken on by Stanley while he was sixteen, when the explorer, who had been sent to the new Congo Free state, created by the Berlin conference, stopped over at Madeira. Teixeira accompanied Stanley on many a trip until he settled on the Angolan side of the Congo-Angolan border near Maquela do Zombo. Teixeira never made a fortune and, at 87 now, has a rather hard time.

At least three Congo newspapers have asked that the Belgian government pay a pension to the old man and invite him to the forthcoming inauguration of the new monument that is to be built in Leopoldville in honor of Stanley. The Lusitania press answered by asking that the Angolan authorities should not tolerate a Portuguese to live from foreign charity and that they should grant him a pension.

Alumni of 11 State Schools Stork-Minded

MILFORD, Mass. (U)—Alumni of the class of 1913 in 11 Illinois colleges are keeping the stork busier than the national average.

Results of a survey recently conducted by the Population Reference bureau show that some graduates of the 11 schools have more children than alumni of many other schools. The survey covered the class of 1913, observing its 10th anniversary, and the class of 1928, celebrating its 25th anniversary, in 143 schools in the country.

The Population Reference bureau, with headquarters in Washington, D. C., is a non-profit organization. Each year for the last eight years the bureau has surveyed two groups graduated 10 and 25 years ago.

Of the 11 colleges in Illinois, three are for women only and eight are coeducational. One, St. Xavier College for Women, in Chicago, was not operating in 1928. Loyola university of Chicago, also part of the study, has a small female enrollment.

Wheaton college's alumni of 1913 led the Illinois schools taking part in the study with an average of 2.29 children each. The national average for 143 schools is 1.63 children per male graduate of 1913.

The 1913 alumnae of St. Xavier college, Chicago, average 2.12 children each to lead the state schools. The national average for 1913 women is 1.30 children.

Chain Reaction

SAN PEDRO, Calif. (U)—Robert Shuman wishes today he'd never gotten around to doing something about that tree stump in his front lawn.

He buried a stick of dynamite down among the roots Tuesday and touched it off. Neighbors reported flying chunks of adobe soil had:

1. Knocked down a TV aerial.
2. Punched a six-inch hole in a roof.
3. Dented a parked car.

Police asked the city attorney to issue a complaint for illegal use of explosives.

The tree stump is little the worse for wear, being still firmly embedded in the front lawn.

Mother, Son Buried Under Hot Asphalt

HOLLYWOOD (U)—Ten tons of scalding asphalt poured over a young mother and her year-old baby Wednesday when an out-of-control dump truck overturned, spilling its steaming load into their convertible.

Mrs. Leonora Kunz, 31, was fatally burned. Her son Andrew, with third degree burns over most of his body, is in critical condition.

Policemen and bystanders freed the mother and the child by dipping the asphalt away with bare hands.

The truck driver, Frank Wilmoth, told police his brakes failed and when he turned abruptly trying to halt his runaway vehicle it turned over on top of Mrs. Kunz' car. Wilmoth suffered only cuts and bruises.

Organized archery as a sport in the United States began in 1828 at Philadelphia. The sport waned in popularity through the Civil War, but was revived in 1878.

AS/c EUGENE R. HILL, son of Mr. Russell Hill, Hanover, and Mrs. Elwyn Hill, Rockford, and who makes his home with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Miller, Dixon, recently completed his basic training at Sampson Air Force base in New York. He is presently located at Francis Warren base in Cheyenne, Wyo., where he is stationed for further training. A 1951 graduate of Dixon high school, prior to his enlistment in March, 1953, Hill was employed at the Dixon State hospital. His present address is: A/c Eugene R. Hill AF16435336, Barracks T-543 Upper, 3465 Student Squadron, FE Warren AFB, Wyoming.

French Reject Bidault; Hunt New Premier

PARIS (U)—The French government crisis entered its fourth week today and President Vincent Auriol looked again for a premier following the National Assembly's rejection of a third candidate, Georges Bidault.

In the Assembly, balloting earlier today, the 627-member lower house failed by one vote to give Bidault the 314-vote absolute majority he required for confirmation. The count was 313-228.

As Auriol began talks with the heads of France's many parties, one name mentioned unofficially as a possible contender was Louis Jacquinot, an independent. He was minister of overseas territories in the Rene Mayer Cabinet, whose defeat May 21 started the crisis. A riot announced he expected to name a four Premier-designate early tonight.

Russians Halt Work on Base

BERLIN (U)—The Russians have abruptly halted major operations in the construction of a giant naval base on the Baltic island of Ruegen, informed Allied quarters said today.

The East German Communist government's share in the huge plant also has been cut by more than half. A budget of 180 million marks for labor and construction this year has been sliced to slightly less than 80 million.

Engineers Can't Save Driver From Having to Save Himself

The season of bumper-to-bumper vacation motoring is upon us again; and the harassed man behind the wheel is going to have to listen to his annual summer lecture on safe driving.

Hearing that today's automobiles have a higher safety factor than ever before, and seeing more and more modern, multi-lane highways coming into being, the poor motorist must be baffled to realize that his problems are no closer to solution.

Yet in many ways they are not. Motor accident and fatality rates are still high generally.

One obvious reason is that, even with all the new highways, the nation's roads today are vastly overcrowded and getting worse. The driver is lucky whose fenders don't show the effects of this abrasive stream of traffic.

It's an old story by now that the highway builders, for lack of money and time, aren't keeping up either with the need for new roads or with the necessity for maintaining the old. Meantime, the motormakers pour millions of new cars onto the existing inadequate network.

But even where highway engineering is of the finest, as in the New Jersey Turnpike, for instance, there is no assurance that accidents will not be far more numerous than they should.

In the first quarter of 1953, this turnpike's accident rate was 66.0 per 100 million miles of travel. As compared with $80.0 for major New Jersey roads in the same period, and with 114.8 on the turnpike in the parallel 1952 span, this record is excellent.

Still, highway specialists don't look on such a record complacently. For they realize—and their investigations support this—that human failures are responsible for virtually all the mishaps. And the story is probably much the same on other super-thoroughfares like the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

In other words, you really can't hope to engineer complete motoring safety. The unpredictable human element stands in the way. If 50 million drivers have not or will not learn all the fundamental driving skills, and practice them constantly, then accidents in discouraging numbers will go on happening.

The unmanageable volume of traffic multiplies many times the accident possibilities, the occasions when any given motorist is exposed to danger.

If he cannot remain continuously alert, watching far in front of him, to right and left and to the rear, he is almost certain to encounter trouble. No car, no highway, no engineer can protect him from this necessity to be the final guardian of his own safety.

Simple Play Is Way to Contract

By OSWALD JACOBY

The shortest road home is the best in bridge as in anything else. Look for a simple plan to make your contract, and beware of complications.

When today's hand was actually played, South tried to make

The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades A-6, Hearts 9-6-2, Diamonds A-K-Q-J-3, Clubs A-5. What do you do?

his contract by "general direction." He won the first trick in dummy with the king of diamonds and returned a low heart towards his queen. What was South's plan for the hand? Nobody will ever know, but it wasn't a good idea.

West won with the king of hearts, noting the fact that his partner had played the nine. West therefore returned a heart, and dummy's finesse of the ten lost to East's jack. East switched suits once more, this time to the king of spades.

Now South's position was pretty hopeless. Whether he took the spade trick or not, he was in a hopeless muddle.

South actually refused the trick, whereupon East switched back to hearts. No matter what declarer did the defenders were bound to get at least three hearts, a spade and a club.

The game contract is easily made if South merely plans his plays carefully at the beginning. After winning the first trick with the king of diamonds, declarer must cash the ace of diamonds, and continue with the ace and queen of clubs.

East takes the king of clubs and returns the king of spades, thus forcing out South's ace. Now declarer can cash the queen of diamonds to discard dummy's jack of clubs. This enables him to stay in his own hand and take the rest of the clubs. Hence South can surely win four clubs, three diamonds, one spade and one heart.

CARD SENSE

Q—With both sides vulnerable, the bidding has been:

West North East South
Hearts 3 Spades Pass ?
You, South, hold: Spades 8-6, Hearts A-J-5, Diamonds A-K-Q-J-3, Clubs 9-6-2. What do you do?

A—Bid three no-trump. If your partner's spades are solid, he will go on to game in spades and will probably make it. If he has weak spades, he will almost surely have side strength in clubs, and you'll have a fine play for three no-trump.

TODAY'S QUESTION

So They Say

It happened on the Republican side and I guess I had no business being over there.

—Congressman Brent Spence (D-Ky.) after tripping on a step in the House chamber.

The Americans, as far as I know, are the only people who have ever taxed themselves for foreigners in peace time.

—British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden.

I am certain that so long as this nation remains prepared, war is not imminent. Let down our guard and the lightning will strike.

—Rep. Carl Vinson (D-Ga.), chairman of the House Armed Services Committee.

Parking meters are a vicious device designed to bleed motorists of every nickel they can.

—J. W. Harrison of Kansas, who claims parking meters are unconstitutional.

"If the steel industry can be seized in this case, then any industry can be seized and anyone's property can be taken in event of disagreement with the government."

—Ernest T. Weir, chairman of National Steel Corporation.

Population Grows

BEJGRADE (AP)—A new census in Yugoslavia shows a population of 16,827,000 persons, seventh largest on the European continent.

This compares to 12,165,000 in 1921, to 11,458,000 in 1931 and to 15,770,000 in 1948 and represents a population growth of approximately 36 per cent since the end of the world war I.

On the basis of official figures from Yugoslav government sources, approximately one person out of every 10 lost his life during the last war as a result of bombings, fighting and lack of hospitalization.

Europe's Tallest

MILAN (AP)—Workers, idle for a month, have rushed back to the job of completing Milan's skyscraper—whose 114 meters and 28 stories will, it is believed, make it the tallest building in Europe and second highest steel-reinforced concrete building in the world.

The delay was due to tradition rather than law. The tallest spire of Milan's historic Duomo—the city cathedral—reaches 108.5 meters. Custom has had it that no building in the city may surpass the cathedral.

It took a special resolution of city council to approve continuing Milan's newest skyscraper business building beyond that height.

Westbrook Pegler

He Sets Out to "Modify" a Nugget of Crude U. S. History—The Story of the Death of William Stiles

This is to abandon Laurence R. Feetham's illusion that the old cavalry carbine which was given to his father by Dr. H. M. Wheeler, of Grand Forks, N. D., was the one with which Doctor Wheeler killed William Stiles, of the Jesse James gang, in the Northfield, Minn., bank robbery on Sept. 7, 1876, and to modify in minor particulars a story which is nevertheless a nugget of crude American history.

The Grand Forks Herald interviewed Mrs. Wheeler, who said Doctor Wheeler's gun was still in the family there. Mr. Feetham, now living in Seattle, politely bows to her as follows: "Let us accept the fact that the doctor's family should know about the gun."

An old picture appearing in the Herald shows Wheeler, apparently a young man, holding a carbine, with the late doctor's fabulous four-gauge shotgun, which looks like a gas-pipe mounted on a stock, standing beside him. Mrs. Wheeler said the carbine which Doctor Wheeler fired was carried by Charles Dampier, the hotel-keeper in Northfield, from 1861 to 1865 in the Union cavalry and that it was given to the Wheeler family when Mr. Dampier died. The gun that Wheeler gave the elder Feetham, now treasured by Laurence Feetham, probably is just another old cavalry carbine.

A large correspondence flowed out of the controversial memories of individuals scattered from Southern Pines, N. C., to Seattle and Las Vegas, Nev. The pure gold of all this is a legend that Wheeler, a poor young man studying medicine at the University of Michigan, showed up for his dissection course in the fall of 1876 with a cadaver all his own to work upon. These articles cost about $200 and when Wheeler nonchalantly remarked to a group of other students that he thought he would go and get in some work at this course, several of them explained: "Did you get one? Where did you get him?"

Young Wheeler said: "I shot him," and was called upon to amplify his grisly account to the dean.

Mrs. Wheeler, as quoted in the Grand Forks Herald, recalled that her late husband and a son of Dampier both were studying medicine at Ann Arbor, and that the boys asked for the two cadavers left behind by the James gang.

"They were told," says the Herald, "that the bodies could not be given away but that they would not be buried very deep. They took up the bodies and shipped them to Ann Arbor."

The one killed by Wheeler was Clell Miller, whose family now went to Ann Arbor and took his body away. However, young Wheeler managed to keep the body of William Stiles, who, it appears from Mrs. Wheeler's memory of things, was shot by A. R. Manning, the man who ran the Northfield hardware store. The Herald's account says Stiles' skeleton was on view in Doctor Wheeler's office until it was destroyed by fire at some date not specified. Apparently young Dampier was out of luck in the shuffle.

Doctor Wheeler had permission to carry a gun for some years after the raid because members of the Miller family had threatened to shoot him.

H. C. Hoffman, of Trail's End Ranch, Oxford, Ohio, said he and Jesse James, Jr., visited Cole Younger, one of three brothers who rode in this and other raids, as he lay dying at Lee's Summit, Mo., in 1916. He and Jesse, Junior, bore Younger's pall. Mr. Hoffman writes that Younger gave him the gun he was carrying when he was captured at Madelia, Minn., 11 days after the raid.

Hoffman gave this gun and other relics of the same chase to the state of Missouri in 1938 and they are now on exhibit in the State House at Jefferson City.

Mr. Hoffman says Stiles, alias Chadwell, lost his head and ran down an alley instead of mounting his horse for the getaway.

In this brief lapse he exposed himself to Wheeler's fire and was killed.

On the point of my observation that the James gang were rotter marksmen, based on the fact that they banged away regardless and killed only two unfortunates who were sitting ducks, Mr. Hoffman said the James boys and the Youngers "were recognized by oldtime experts as having no peers in the use of a six-gun."

Cole Younger told him, "We did not want to hit anyone. However, it was impossible to avoid hitting the cashier at the moment, it was kill or be killed." He points out that the gang fired 30 times at Mr. Manning, the hardware man, without even wounding him, the implication being that they didn't want to kill anyone unnecessarily.

To the contrary, we have an oration by Harry B. Hawes, former senator from Missouri, to the Missouri Historical Society in 1939, which was entered in the Congressional Record by Harry Truman a few days later, which both extols and condemns the gang but distinctly says that in the Northfield raid, "the professional dead-shots were route. Amateurs won the day."

The reaction of the press to the scheme by which Governor Crittenden tempted Rob and Charley Ford, members of the gang, to shoot Jesse in the back of the head for a $10,000 reward, was mixed. The Kansas City Times attacked the St. Joe Herald and the St. Louis Post-Dispatch on the ground that they mourned "the loss of

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD—(NEA)— Exclusively Yours: Hedy Lamarr left for movie making in Europe with this sad statement to a close friend, "I'm afraid I'm through in Hollywood. Nobody wants me."

The show is a hit and she's sticking with it. . . . Friends are worried about Betty Garrett's slow recovery from a pneumonia attack. . . . That big hunk of real estate that Billy Eckstine and his wife are splitting up in their divorce is right next to the estate of Clark Gable.

ALL THIS AND TALENT

Marie Wilson will unveil a new talent—mimicry—in her Las Vegas night-club act. She'll do murderous takeoffs on Tallulah Bankhead and Vivien Leigh in special material written by Sidney Miller. She'll also do a parody on the song, "I'm in the Money." In Las Vegas?

Gene Barry, who sent the ladies into a spin with his emoting in "Atomic City" and "War of the Worlds," is headed for Errol Flynn-type awashbucklers at Paramount. The Doctor Says:

Call Doctor in Polio Season If Symptoms Suggest Polio

By EDWIN P. JORDON, M. D.

CALL DOCTOR IN POLIO SEASON

The fear of polio often becomes so great that parents often mistakenly feel that any illness in a child is likely to be that dread disease. Although they are usually wrong, one should be alert to the danger and should not ignore any suspicious symptoms.

The first symptoms of polio may be like those of other infections. Consequently it is doubly necessary to make sure that polio is not the cause.

The beginning signs of polio are likely to last for a few hours or for three or four days. A low fever is common. The victim may complain of feeling dizzy, slight muscular twitches are common and the child may seem unusually irritable. A slight stiffness of the neck is particularly significant.

However, parents should be careful not to call too much attention to the possibility of stiffness of the neck because this might cause a suggestible child to complain of something which is not really there.

As time goes on, stiffness becomes worse in the neck and in the back. The skin is likely to be sore and tender. The muscle weakness or paralysis usually does not show up for several days. Most of these first symptoms may be present in an ordinary cold or some other minor illness. At times when polio is common, however, they should be considered seriously and at the attendance of a physician should be obtained and the progress carefully watched.

HARD TO TELL EARLY

Even the physician, however, may have difficulty in making a diagnosis at first. Until a few days have passed it may be hard to tell polio from less serious conditions. Also some persons show the early symptoms of polio without ever developing paralysis.

Probably some of these are caused by the same tiny virus which produces polio, but which just does not attack the nervous system and cause paralysis.

There are good reasons for believing that many people become infected with the polio virus and never know it. Probably this is the reason so many of us seem to have built up a resistance.

Daring Peekaboo Blouses Taboo in Business Offices

An executive secretary wrote the following letter discussing the wearing of peekaboo blouses in business offices:

"Perhaps you can help me since you write a variety of articles aimed at women readers. I am in need of an article about the wearing of sheer blouses in business offices."

"This situation has gotten to be quite a problem in our office. I realize that it is pretty hard for a girl to get any other kind of blouse these days. The clerks think you are out of your mind when you ask for something that you can't see through."

"So we don't object as much to the blouses as to what the girls wear beneath them. It is shocking to see the condition of the slips and bias worn under these transparent blouses. Our office manager has laid the problem in my lap."

"We have 50 men working in the office and three times that many passing through twice a day from the main plant. You see what the situation is."

THERE ARE TWO WAYS TO CORRECT THIS

It seems to me you have got to do one of two things. You can try to educate the girls as to the proper type of clothes for a business office. For this, you could sponsor a series of style shows, tipping off the commentor to make a few pointed remarks about the cheap look of too-revealing blouses in a business office.

Or you can use the direct method and have your office manager make an office rule that no employee is to come to work wearing a blouse sheer enough to reveal what is worn beneath it.

The second solution, it seems to me, is the best. For if you simply try to teach the girls good taste, there will undoubtedly be a few who will disregard everything that is pointed out to them.

But a flat rule should create little resentment since it applies to everyone. And you are certainly justified in making such a rule, since any outsider walking into an office gets an unfavorable impression of the whole concern if even one woman employee is dressed in such, cheap, Accused Chicago Swindler Arrested in Houston, Tex.

HOUSTON (AP)—Maurice S. Weinzelbaum, who is reputed to have owed an estimated $500,000 to friends when he vanished from Chicago last January, was arrested in Houston last night with $7 in his pocket.

Weinzelbaum, a portly balding attorney of 40, denied to a reporter that he ever had $500,000.

He said he had so little money that he had been eating in hot dog joints in Houston, adding sarcastically, "I figure I've saved a half million that way."

Chicago police notified Lt. Larry

Fultz here they would start extradition proceedings today. Weinzelbaum faces Chicago indictments on two counts of operating a confidence game.

Weinzelbaum denied that he flew to Rio De Janeiro, Brazil, when he left Chicago.

"If I had been in Rio, why on earth would I return here?" he asked.

An Associated Press reporter interviewed a man identified as Weinzelbaum in Rio last winter and Life magazine published pictures of him taken in Rio.

The state's attorney office in Chicago said actual claims filed against Weinzelbaum by creditors total $100,000 and that another $200,000 is expected to be claimed.

Unofficial estimates, however, placed the attorneys' debts at $500,000.

Chicago police said Weinzelbaum's financial manipulations were involved. They said he would borrow large amounts from friends, claiming to invest the money in ventures which would return fantastic profits. In a few cases, he repaid the loans with huge interest payments.

As a result, some of his friends brought more money to him, asking him to invest it for them. Officers said Weinzelbaum would borrow from new friends to repay loans of old ones.

Weinzelbaum said he had been living in Houston since Feb. 18.

Asked what he had been doing for a living here, Weinzelbaum said he had, among other things,

List Indictments

Two true bills charging confidence game were returned by the Cook County (Chicago) grand jury last March. One accused Weinzelbaum of taking $7,500 from a retired restaurant owner on the promise of returning an additional 10 per cent in three months. An other true bill accused him of cheating an optometrist out of $8,500 by promising a 15 per cent return within 30 days on a loan of $10,000.

Since he left Chicago, Weinzelbaum's wife, Ruth, 33, obtained a divorce on grounds of cruelty. She is the ex-wife of Harry Karl, West Coast industrialist now married to film actress Marie McDonald. The Weinzelbaums had lived in a luxurious Gold Coast apartment and he maintained a suite of offices in a downtown office building.

Dorothy Chapter Has Visit From Official Family

Friday, June 5, was a memorable occasion for Dorothy Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, when Rita T. Johnson, Chicago, Worthy Grand Matron of Illinois, was here for her official visit.

She was accompanied by Worthy Grand Patron, Clarence Sillaway, Chicago, and six members of the "Official Family": Grand Conductress, Grace Neuhaus; Grand Chaplain, Myrtle Beaumont; Grand Marshal, Mildred Bloomstrand; Grand Organist, Irene Thorson; Grand Martha, Leona Hoffman; and Grand Electa, Margaret Davidson, all of Chicago.

Other distinguished guests were two past Grand Patrons, Arthur L. Johnson, Rockford and John Brantford, Savanna, also two Grand Representatives, Elsie Sillaway, Chicago, of Iowa and Marguerite Birr, Rockford, of Colorado; and Mrs. and Mrs. Don Beach, Past Officers of Chanute, Kansas.

The meeting of Dorothy chapter for the official visit was preceded by a 6:30 dinner in the dining room of the Masonic Temple for 150 guests which was served by Corinthian Shrine, Dixon. A coronation theme was used for decorations, with silver, pink, and orchid, the colors for this year, predominating. Tables were adorned with bouquets of roses, peonies and iris.

Over 300
More than 300 members filled the chapter room, many chapters in the Rock River Valley and surroundings areas being represented. Huge baskets of peonies and iris graced the room. Helen Tate, Worthy Matron and Robert Tate, Worthy Patron of Dorothy Chapter, were hostess and host for the official visit. Officers of Dorothy chapter filled their stations for the night. The Worthy Grand Matron was first to be escorted and introduced. "With a song in my heart" was sung by Ora Tice and Myrtle Bishop. Following his escort and introduction, the Worthy Grand Patron was honored with a song "The sunshine of your smile," also sung by Ora Tice and Myrtle Bishop.

Escorting continued with the Grand Officers, Grand Representatives, Grand Chapter Committees, Grand Lecturers, Worthy Matrons and Patrons, Past Matrons and Patrons, and other line officers. The Rock River Valley Worthy Matrons and Patrons were seated together near the East.

Ruth Crawford, Organist of Dorothy Chapter and Myrtle Bishop at the piano, favored with several duets during the evening.

The Worthy Grand Matron directed her talk to the work which is being done by the Grand Chapter committees this year. She invited all members to attend Open House at Macon Sanitarium on June 28, and at the Rockford Home on July 12. These two homes are maintained by the members of the Order. She complimented Dorothy Chapter, and especially Beulah Tennant, Instructress of the chapter for her fine work.

Reception
After the meeting the Grand Officers, hostess and host formed a receiving line to meet members and guests during a short reception.

Mossholder, Jones Amboy Wedding

June Bride In Ballerina Bridal Gown

AMBOY—Chantilly lace over nylon net and taffeta fashioned the ballerina length dress worn by Marlene Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Jones, Amboy, when she became the bride of Donald Mossholder, Saturday afternoon, June 6. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mossholder, LaMoille.

White gladioli decorated the First Methodist church, Amboy, for the 2 o'clock double ring ceremony performed by Dr. Olin Clarke Jones.

Mrs. O. N. Eckburg, Amboy, was nuptial organist and Mrs. Arthur Clarke, soloist. Vocal selections included: "The Lord's Prayer" and "Because."

Pearl Earrings Are Gift
Given in marriage by her father, the pretty bride wore a double nylon net fingertip length veil held in place with a coronet headpiece set with rhinestones and seed pearls. The bride's flowers were lilies of the valley and a white orchid on a white ribbon. Her jewelry was her gift from the bridegroom, pearl earrings.

Mrs. Gerry Gum, Kaneville, Ill., matron of honor and Mrs. Gene Berkeley, Oregon, bridesmaid, were gowned in Nile green embroidered net over taffeta frocks. With their strapless dresses they wore stoles and headpieces of Shasta daisies. Their bouquets matched their headpieces.

Caroline Murphy, Amboy, junior bridesmaid, wore a Nile green net frosted with white dress. Her headpiece was also of Shasta daisies.

The bride's gift to Mrs. Gum was a pair of pearl earrings; to Mrs. Berkeley, crystal earrings and to young Miss Murphy, a pearl bracelet. The bridegroom presented his attendants with matching cuff links and tie clasps.

Don Harshbarger, Centralia, Mo., brother-in-law of the bridegroom, served as best man and ushers were Donald Frost, Dixon, cousin of the bride and Gene Berkeley, Oregon.

Mrs. Jones donned a dusty rose lace dress with white accessories for the ceremony. Mrs. Mossholder wore white accessories with her powder blue linen dress that had lace trim. They both wore white gladioli corsages. The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Emma Jones, Franklin Grove, wore pink carnations with her navy dress and her great aunt, Miss Ida Poets, Amboy, wore pink carnations with her blue print dress. It was a 35 year old hankie belonging to her great aunt which the bride carried as her something old.

Church Reception
White daisies and honeysuckle decorated the church parlors for the reception. Mrs. Byron Treadwell, Amboy, aunt of the bride, cut the five-tiered wedding cake; Mrs. Don Harshbarger, sister of the bridegroom, poured; Miss Betty Friel, Big Rock, served the

When the newlyweds departed for a wedding trip to the Ozarks the bride was wearing a beige linen suit with white and brown accessories. Upon returning they will reside in Belvidere.

A graduate of Amboy high school the bride has been employed at the Midwest Rug Mills, Amboy. The bridegroom, an employee of the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois, graduated from Amboy high school and also attended the University of Illinois.

Reveal Arrest of Former Communists in Rockford

CHICAGO (AP)—Immigration officials announced today that three former Communists—none of them "big shots"—have been arrested in Rockford.

Marcus T. Neely, head of the Immigration office in Chicago, identified the three as Gustav Oleg Olson, 45, of 2221 Eighth st., proprietor of a Rockford radio shop; Charles Chirvinski, 55, of 1117 West st., a machinist, and Per August Eli Karlsson, 55, of 2618 Tenth st., also a machinist.

Neely said all three deny they presently are members of the Communist party. He added that the arrests were made Tuesday at this district.

The immigration official said Olson, married with no children, came to this country in 1926 from Sweden and has admitted membership in the party at Rockford from 1930 to 1933. Neely said Karlsson, married and the father of one child, came to the United States from Sweden in 1923 and has admitted membership in the party from 1930 to 1935.

Chirvinski, Neely said, entered the United States from Russia in 1910 and had admitted party membership from 1930 to 1931. Chirvinski is divorced and is the father of one son.

All three men are at liberty without bond. Neely said they will appear in his office late today for questioning and for the setting of deportation hearings.

Neely said a preliminary investigation shows that none of the three men has any police record. He said the arrests followed "available information" which happened to refer to the Rockford area.

Reds' New Attitude in E. Germany 'Startling'

BERLIN (AP)—East Germany's Red rulers announced sweeping cutbacks Wednesday night in the Communization of the Soviet-occupied territory and signed a peace treaty giving the powerful Protestant church big concessions.

Both startling developments—Western quarters figured the Kremlin ordered them—apparently were aimed at making the East zone a more attractive candidate for unification with the more prosperous and free West Germany.

They appeared also designed to quiet the widespread fear and discontent among East Germany's 18 million residents which have sent thousands fleeing each week to the West.

Anti-Adenauer

The concessions to the Germans from their Red rules also gave new ammunition to West German opponents of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's campaign to bring Germany's western half into military alliance with the NATO nations.

The Politburo directives provided for:

1. No further extension of the collective farm system.
2. Making state bank credits available to private businesses.

Those who have been forced out of business will be granted permission to set up shop again.

3. Returning confiscated property and full civil rights to persons who come back to East Germany after fleeing to the West.
4. A general amnesty for all prisoners serving one to three years on charges of having damaged the state-owned economy.
5. Issuance of ration cards to all persons. The state recently withheld cards from 250,000 East Germans, regarded as outside the favored Red circle.

Reverses Attitude

The pact to end the bitter church-state battle was announced jointly by Premier Otto Grotewohl and Bishop Otto G. Dibelius, head of the Protestant Church for All Germany. Its nine points, covering most of the main issues, sharply reversed the government's hostile attitude of the past few months.

German Catholic officials said they hoped to obtain similar relief from Communist persecution.

The church-state pact provided:

1. Recognition of the church's right of assembly.
2. "No further actions" against the Youth Communities and other church groups. All pupils expelled from schools because they were active in the church outfits, rather than the Red-sponsored Free German Youth, are to be readmitted.
3. Review of court sentences against more than 100 pastors now in jail on charges of opposing the state; "unjust punishments" will be rectified. Confiscated church property will be returned.
4. All state subsidies to the church—long customary in Germany—to be paid promptly.
5. The Ministry of Education to work out a plan restoring religious lessons to Soviet zone classrooms.
6. Elimination of discrimination against advanced students loyal to the church or to church groups.

Educational TV Measure Faces Test in Senate

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—A legislative effort to block state institutions from engaging in television transmission came to the Illinois senate floor today with narrowly won education committee support.

The measure, already approved by the house, would ban any state tax supported institution, including the University of Illinois, from building, acquiring, operating or maintaining a television transmitter.

Seven senate education committee members voted to release the bill from committee Wednesday while six opposed the action.

Before the vote was taken, Sen. George Drach of Springfield, Republican majority whip, suggested that it be held until an amendment was prepared to permit state colleges and universities to transmit TV by private funds.

Senator Everett Peters (R-St. Joseph) asked for an immediate vote. He said the amendment could be offered if the bill reached the senate floor.

Supporting the bill were the Illinois Broadcasters association and the Taxpayers Federation of Illinois. Opposing it were officials of the U. of I. and Southern Illinois university.

Speed Reconstruction of New England Storm Zone

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP)—Rehabilitation operations were in full swing today on the second day after New England's worst tornado cut a swath of death and destruction through central Massachusetts.

As steps were taken to speed the appropriation of federal and state funds and the payment of insurance policies, the stricken area counted this toll:

- Dead—82, with two still unidentified.
- Missing—13.
- Injured—about 800.
- Homeless—about 7,000.
- Damage—estimated by Gov. Christian A. Herter at 75 million dollars.

Early today, President Eisenhower designated the stricken region as a major disaster area, qualifying it for federal aid.

Rescue workers continued to search wreckage of hundreds of homes and business establishments in 12 communities for more bodies.

Some 2,000 National Guardsmen patrolled the devastated area to prevent looting.

Col. William F. Bigelow, military commander of the Worcester National Guard Area, imposed a 5 p.m. curfew law in the area after reporting, "There's been looting. Just how much we don't know."

Fully 1,000 homes were reported demolished and 3,000 damaged in Worcester.

Another 150 homes were said to have been demolished or damaged in Holden, Shrewsbury, Petersham, Barre, Rutland, Grafton, Westboro, Wrentham, Southboro, Templeton and Paxton.

Dixon Youth Fined $100 Here Today

A 17-year-old Dixon youth was fined $100 and costs today after pleading guilty to a charge of reckless driving.

Lawrence Schmall Jr., 17, of 2100 Third st., was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Sterling Schrock today after being arrested by city police at 1:50 a.m.

Dixon Police Officers McCoy and Boehme reported that the youth was driving west on Third street and turned his lights out a block east of a stop sign at Third street and Sherman avenue.

They added that he ran the stop sign at a high rate of speed.

According to the arresting officers, Schmall said that he turned the lights out so that "if anyone was around, they couldn't get his license number."

The maximum fine was recommended in that Schmall already was involved in a previous traffic violation this year.

Police said that the defendant had been drinking and that he admitted having consumed "three beers."

However, Justice of the Peace Schrock said that Schmall would not reveal who provided the beer.

Booster Meeting For Moose Lodge To Be Held Friday

A booster meeting of the Dixon Moose lodge will be held in the club rooms at 8 p.m. Friday, according to Harold Horton, governor of the local lodge.

The meeting is in conjunction with a drive for new members. Persons who would like to visit the club are urged to attend, Horton said.

William Phelps, vice president of district 4, will be the honored guest during the meeting.

The meeting is also for the purpose of discussing the lodge-sponsored free trip to Mooseheart on Sunday for 50 or more members and 25 or more candidates for membership.

Governor Straton and other state officials will be the featured speakers at the Mooseheart celebration of Illinois day.

Mrs. Hubert Is Listed as Sole Heir to Estate

The sole heir to the estate of the late Elmer C. Hubert, 64, Dixon, retired manager of the Borden Cheese division, is Mrs. Adeline Hubert, 929 Brinton av., widow of the deceased.

Mrs. Hubert was named sole heir to the estate in her husband's will admitted to probate in Lee county court on May 23.

In a previous account of the probate action by The Telegraph, Mrs. Hubert was listed as being among the legal heirs of the estate, according to a petition for letters testamentary.

Mrs. Hubert also was named executrix of the estate in the will of her husband and letters testamentary were issued to her by the county court.

Hubert died April 22, 1953, in the KSB hospital. He resided in Dixon since his appointment to the Borden managerial post in 1936.

Prof Cites Difference Between Single and Married Women

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—What's the difference between married and single women?

For one thing, married women appear a shade more beautiful, says a Florida State university marriage and family specialist who spent a year studying the subject.

Dr. Richard H. Klemmer adds, however, that he found the most beautiful individuals in the single group.

Dr. Klemmer used two carefully matched groups of Florida women, one single and one married, between the ages of 30 and 39. The women were selected from lists of clubhouses and college alumnae in Tallahassee, Jacksonville and Miami.

"More than one-eighth of the women in the single group seemed to me to be more attractive than any of the women in the married sample," said Dr. Klemmer, who's married himself.

Furthermore, he found the single women seemed more often to have the characteristics associated with being both "too timid" and "too independent."

Food, Clothing Buck Lower Price Trends

NEW YORK — Prices of many important items — in the fields of food, clothing and basic industrial materials — are bucking the general trend toward lower levels.

Prices of most products and materials have slipped from their Korean War inflation peak. But an important minority are firming up again or threatening to climb higher. And the government's wholesale commodity price index still stands 10 per cent above its level when the war began almost three years ago.

Producers of items on which the price trend is upward apparently see nothing in the Korean truce prospects to halt this trend.

High Fliers

High fliers in food are pork, lamb and rice. Short supplies and good demand keep these foods well above their year ago prices.

The wholesale food price index of Dun & Bradstreet has been rising again and is now 2 per cent higher than a year ago. The government's wholesale food price index—which is not as sensitive to price fluctuations as is Dun & Bradstreet's—is 4 per cent below a year ago. But it, too, has been stiffening and runs 1 per cent higher than in January.

Good Bargains

Some of this firming in the wholesale markets hasn't shown up yet in the grocery stores, where housewives can find many good bargains—compared with a year ago. And the government's retail food price index is 1 per cent below the first of the year and 2 per cent below a year ago.

Farmers, however, find little to cheer about. Farm prices average 11 per cent under last year's level. Wool prices have stiffened. The men's clothing industry says that this price gain, and more importantly an increase in wages, will mean higher prices on men's suits this fall.

Steel Leads Rise

In the field of basic industrial materials, steel has been the leader in price rises this spring. Most finished steel products now carry higher price listings.

Wage negotiations now under way may send steel prices still higher. Management says that any wage increases granted must be passed along to the consumer in higher prices.

Gasoline prices have gone up a little in some places, and a long list of basic chemicals has seen price hikes in recent weeks.

But a long list of things are selling now at prices below pre-Korean War level.

Cattle prices are in this class. So are hides, tallow, some livestock feeds, and raw cotton. Zinc and natural rubber are among the industrial materials in this group. And a majority of the others are below their inflationary peaks.

Propose Radar to Spot Tornadoes

BALTIMORE — A nation-wide radar network to track tornadoes and reduce the loss of life and property from such catastrophes has been proposed by a weather expert.

Capt. Howard P. Orville, former head of the navy's meteorological division, estimated such a system could be built at 35 key weather stations. He suggested it would cost about five million dollars a year over a 10-year period.

President to Give Party Report on Administration

MINOT, N. D. — President Eisenhower gives a Republican rally a report today on the first months of his administration, a regime he says will be free during the next four years of scandals and racketeering.

The President promised such an administration to 250 North Dakota GOP leaders Wednesday night after telling another audience in Minneapolis that all the free nations of the world must stand together against Communist aggression, "or they shall fall separately."

Eisenhower spent the night in Minot and was scheduled to drive 65 miles today to Riverdale, N. D., to speak briefly and informally at ceremonies marking closure of Garrison Dam.

Addresses Young GOP

From there he travels to Mt. Rushmore National Memorial near Rapid City, S. D., for a major political address at the convention of the National Federation of Young Republicans.

Eisenhower gave his Minot audience a preview of his speech to the Young Republicans.

Singling out such members of his Cabinet as Secretary of State Dulles, Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, Secretary of Labor Durkin and Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Hobby as examples of integrity and ability, the President urged the North Dakota group to attract outstanding people into the state organization's ranks.

People of such caliber, Eisenhower added, "assure there are not going to be any tax scandals

Congressmen to Push Inquiry Into A-Bomb Link to Tornadoes

WASHINGTON — Rep. Madden (D-Ind) said today he will push his proposal for a congressional investigation into whether atomic tests in Nevada have anything to do with the tornadoes striking the country at a possible record rate.

The Weather Bureau, the Atomic Energy Commission and some key congressmen insist there is no evidence of any connection.

But two senior members of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee — Rep. W. Sterling Cole (R-NY) and Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) — said a public inquiry might help clarify the question.

However, both added in separate interviews that atomic scientists have assured them atomic tests do not change the weather.

Madden called on the House Armed Services Committee Wednesday to conduct a formal investigation, since the Nevada tests are being conducted by the Army.

Chairman Short (R-Mo), however, told newsmen the question is beyond the committee's authority. But he has not yet answered Madden's letter requesting the probe.

Madden said in an interview he would ask the Joint Atomic Energy Committee to make the investigation of the armed services group turns him down.

The bureau said 249 tornadoes have been reported so far this year, possibly a record for the 35 years in which counts have been kept. The average in the past 35 years has been 109 tornadoes for the first six months of each.

First submarine of the U. S. Navy, the work of John Philip Holland, was a stubby, cigar-shaped vessel propelled by a four-cylinder gasoline engine.

Madden called on the House Armed Services Committee Wednesday to conduct a formal investigation, since the Nevada tests are being conducted by the Army.

Chairman Short (R-Mo), however, told newsmen the question is beyond the committee's authority. But he has not yet answered Madden's letter requesting the probe.

Queen Marks Her Birthday

LONDON — Queen Elizabeth 11 officially celebrated her 27th birthday today—and caused one of the biggest traffic jams in memory.

First aid teams attended several hundred persons who fainted or were injured in the dense crush around the horse guards parade ground, where the Queen, seated with easy grace on a horse named Winston, took the salute at the trooping of the color—one of Britain's most stirring spectacles.

The Queen was born on April 21, 1926, but as with previous British monarchs, the empire celebrates her birthday officially in June. England's weather is likely to be at its best then.

For an hour and a half the Queen rode side-saddle, or sat at quiet attention, for today's ceremony.

There were a few spatters of rain at noon when the Queen took the climactic salute from the massed and brilliantly uniformed infantrymen and cavalrymen.

Arrest Father After He Chains Son to Chair

ELGIN, Ill. — A 41-year-old man was held to the Kane County grand jury on a charge of endangering the health and life of a child after police charged that he had bound his 12-year-old son to a porch chair with an iron chain.

The accused man, Louis Molner jr., an employee of a watch manufacturing company, was arrested Tuesday on the complaint of neighbors.

Police said they found Molner's son, Gary, chained to a front porch chair. A 12-foot chain had been looped around his neck and padlocked to the chair, they said.

They quoted Gary as saying that he was chained while his parents were at work because his father was dissatisfied with his performance in a Little League baseball game Sunday. Gary also said his father was angered by his failure to pick up branches blown on the lawn by a storm.

Molner told the police that when he and his wife, Sylvia, came home for lunch Tuesday they discovered the boy had been playing with matches.

Deep Oil Well

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. — The deepest oil well in California is down 18,781 feet, or more than 3½ miles. An Ohio Oil company spokesman said the depth broke the previous state record set by Superior Oil's Limoneira No. 1 in Ventura county, which bottomed at 18,734 feet before it was abandoned in 1949.

He did not say how much deeper the record breaker would be sunk. Only two wells have gone deeper than the Ohio company well, he said.

Superior's Pacific Creek well in Sublette county, Wyoming, set the world mark in 1950 at 20,521 feet. It later was abandoned as a dry hole.

The second deepest well, he said, was a 20,450 foot "duster" drilled several years ago in Mississippi.

Kid Gavilan Wins; Will Defend Title

DETROIT (AP)—"First me defend my title, then fight middle-weight champion for his title."

Those are Kid Gavilan's plans after breezing to an easy 10-round non-title decision over Italo Scorticchi at Olympia Stadium Wednesday night.

John Saxton and Gil Turner are scheduled to meet in Philadelphia Monday night in what amounts to a welterweight elimination match. It's possible Chuck Davey may meet the Saxton-Turner winner, with the winner of that facing Gavilan.

Gavilan trimmed his young Italian opponent from start to finish. Gavilan weighed 151½ to Scorticchi's 155.

Referee Clarence Rosen had the champion on top, 58-42, judge Al Goodman had it 60-10 and judge Jack Aspery, 53-17.

NHL Breaks With Canadian Hockey League

MONTREAL (AP)—Sweeping changes in hockey came into focus today with prospects of a complete rupture between the professional and amateur organizations. One official predicted the National League would fold within three years after the ties are severed.

The break likely would not become final until June 30, 1955. Club owners at the annual meeting of the National Hockey League voted Wednesday to terminate the agreement between the professional bodies and the Canadian Amateur Hockey association.

The pros feel their sponsored clubs are not getting any worth, while financial return from CAHA playoffs.

W. B. George, CAHA president, said he believed National Hockey league clubs will not last three years because the ending of the agreement "would end the present system of a three-game tryout of amateur players with professional clubs. I should not be surprised if the association decided that any player who signed for a professional team should be suspended from amateur hockey for life."

"A boy will have to be pretty sure before he signs a professional contract that he is going to be able to stay in professional ranks for at least four or five years."

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP)—Former Brooklyn and Chicago Cubs catcher Bruce Edwards has resigned as manager of the cellar-dwelling Springfield Cubs of the International League.

TAG END OF A SCREWBALL DOUBLE PLAY—Milwaukee Third Baseman Ed Matthews is about to tag faltering Giant first baseman Whitey Lockman to complete screwball double play in which both outs were made at second base in eighth inning at New York. Umpire Frank Dascoli calls the out. Partly hidden by Dascoli and standing on second is Giant Right Fielder Hank Thompson who previously had been tagged by Matthews to start the twin killing. Other player is Braves Shortstop Johnny Logan (23). Play started when Thompson, who singled to center with Lockman on first, was caught off first base and broke for second forcing Lockman to abandon the bag. In frantic rundown Lockman scampered back to second only to find Thompson or cutting the base. Matthews tagged Thompson who was not entitled to the base and Lockman also was tagged by Matthews after wandering off second to complete the double play. Milwaukee won, 6 to 5. (AP wirephoto)

Clark Sets Pace in Open

Shoots 66 For Record At Oakmont

Hogan Qualifies; Still Regarded Man To Beat for Title

OAKMONT, Pa. (AP)—One hundred fifty-seven of the nation's best golfers set out today on the first 18 holes of the 53rd National Open Golf tournament.

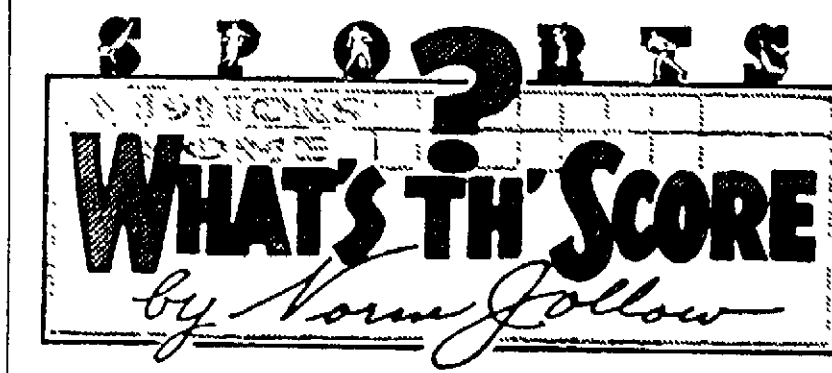

Although Jimmy Clark's qualifying 6 under par 66 set a new competitive record for the 6,916-yard Oakmont course, Ben Hogan was still regarded as the man to beat.

Not a player of importance failed to finish inside the qualifying limit of 156 strokes for the two rounds. One, defending champion Julius Boros, was exempt.

Clark, a 32-year-old who has won little more than pegouts in four years on the tournament trail, won the qualifying medal and $250 cash with his two-day total of 134.

He had a two-stroke margin over 1919 Open champion Cary Middlecott.

Hogan, winner of three of the last five Open championships, qualified with ordinary rounds of 77-73-150. He hurt his back Tuesday on the first round.

GEORGE COVERT REPORTED this morning that 137 boys and girls have turned out for park board tennis instruction. The girls, says George, show the most interest with 86 signing up while only 51 boys turned up.

"This," reports Covert, "is an excellent turnout."

FOR THE BOYS' LIONS CLUB TENNIS TOURNAMENT which gets underway Saturday and runs through Sunday, 38 boys have signed up for competition including defending champion Al Newcomer and runner up Jim Bodecker. Also entered in the 18 years old and under class is Henry Utley, who last year won the 15 years old and under title.

With these three fighting for honors, the tournament promises to be a hot one, Covert said.

WINK McREYNOLDS, chairman of the Reynolds field activities committee, is looking for outside teams to play an all-star church softball league team during the season.

Wink said that games can be scheduled any night and if the all-star contests conflict with regular church league nights, church league nights may be shifted.

We'd like to suggest one possible match, a game between the best in the Dixon loop and the best in the Polo loop.

McREYNOLDS SAID he is also considering seeking games with recreation teams from the Chicago area which should prove interesting if they materialize.

THE LIGHTWEIGHT TITLE FIGHT Friday between Jimmy (Knock 'em Down 10 Times) Carter and George Araujo (a lad from my home state), shapes up to be a better title match than the one which pitted Carter and Tommy Collins of Boston.

Araujo is regarded as the number one contender for the title which Carter has held for two years.

Carter boldly predicts that he'll knock out the challenger "inside 10 rounds," according to the Associated Press while Araujo has labeled Carter a "plodder."

The fight will be telecast by NBC and broadcast by ABC.

McBride Sells Grid Browns For Record Price: $600,000

CLEVELAND (AP)—Coach Paul Brown gets the official word that he and his Cleveland Browns now are working for new owners.

Brown was at a Canadian fishing camp Wednesday when the biggest buy in National Football League history was completed.

Homer Harshman, one of the new owners and the attorney handling the deal, said Brown knew the transaction was in prospect.

The $600,000 paid to Arthur (Mickey) McBride for the powerful Browns was a record figure, in sharp contrast to $250,000 paid for the Philadelphia Eagles at the peak of their popularity.

The Browns' new president, Dave R. Jones, a former Cleveland Indian director and president of the Geometric Stamping Co. here, said Brown would have a free hand in operating the club.

Milwaukee, Yanks Win To Hold Top

Bums, Cards Keep Pace; Cleveland, Boston Stay Alive

By The Associated Press
The Philadelphia Phillies have a day off today after winning a pair from Chicago Wednesday night, 9-1 and 8-5, and moving within four games of the league-leading Milwaukee Braves.

Robin Roberts became the first pitcher in either league to win 10 games as he picked up the decision in the first game. Constantly started and won the nightcap, although Steve Ridzik and Karl Drews were in action before it ended.

The Braves kept a game in front of the Brooklyn Dodgers by edging New York, 6-5. The Dodgers hammered 11 hits off Cincinnati pitching to whip the Redlegs, 13-3. St. Louis won for the third time in 10 road games, 5-1, over Pittsburgh.

Boston Win Two
In the American league, the New York Yankees trimmed Detroit, 11-1, for their 13th straight and Cleveland nipped the Washington Senators, 2-1, for their seventh in a row. The Yanks lead the Indians by 5½ games.

Boston moved into third place with a pair of victories over the St. Louis Browns, 11-2, and 3-2, with Jimmy Piersall equalling a major league record with six straight hits in the opener. Philadelphia edged Chicago, 2-1.

The big blow in Milwaukee's success at the Polo Grounds were home runs by Eddie Mathews and Sid Gordon. Mathews' poke was his 15th of the season and put him out in front in the league's home run race. Gordon's came with two aboard in the eighth and provided the winning run.

Giants Help
The Giants helped Milwaukee by running the bases like the old Dodgers. In the eighth inning two men ended up on second base at the same time and both were tagged out for a double play.

With Whitey Lockman at second, Hank Thompson was trapped off first base on a pickoff play. Thompson broke for second and Lockman for third. The throw went to third and Lockman headed back to second where he was greeted by Thompson standing on the bag. Mathews tagged both men.

Only Thompson was out, since Lockman was entitled to the base but Lockman forgot the rules and broke for third. Mathews tagged him again.

Four Hitter
The Cardinals got heavy hitting at Pittsburgh from Enos Slaughter, four for four, and Stan Musial, a double and single in three trips.

In the Detroit contest, Yankee pinch hitters Johnny Mize and Yogi Berra sparked a seven-hit, seven-run rally in the sixth inning.

Mike Garcia, finally flashing the form he showed last season, set the Senators down on four hits at Cleveland.

Piersall's six-for-six led a 19-hit Boston attack in the first game at St. Louis, but the Red Sox had to scramble for the second when they were out, 11-10.

The White Sox gave relief ace Sandy Consuegra his first starting assignment but forgot to get him some runs. They managed only one off Harry Byrd in the first.

Stanky Plays Peace Maker; Saves Players

PITTSBURGH (AP)—St. Louis Cardinal Manager Eddie Stanky's "peace maker" role at Brooklyn last Saturday saved two of his players from a suspension by National League President Warren Giles.

Shortstop Holly Hemus and catcher Del Rice were fined $50 for their protest to Umpire Bill Engeln over a ball and strike call. The Cardinals were defeated by the Dodgers, 5-1, when Gil Hodges hit a three-run homer in the ninth inning after the call which the players contended should have been a third strike.

In telegrams to the Cardinals here, Giles said the players would have been suspended if Stanky hadn't tried to control them. Stanky shoved Rice away from the umpire and then rushed over to stop Hemus' action after the game was over.

However, Stanky was fined $50 by Giles for his action in a game at Philadelphia last Wednesday. Stanky was ejected from the game by Umpire Frank Dascoli after arguing over a play on the bases.

PCC Tightens Up On Football Code
SEATTLE (AP)—The faculty men who run the Pacific Coast conference tightened the reins Wednesday on both varsity and freshman football.

They limited the frosh to two football games a year, voted to wipe out spring practice for varsities in 1956 and shortened the practice sessions for both.

Oscar Witzleb, club proprietor reported that he has begun laying the new eighth green and already has run into trouble. Oscar found that he ran out of grass before the job was finished.

He has put in a hurried call to the company and is hopeful of receiving the rest of the green shortly.

Durocher Talks Self Into, Out Of Suspension

NEW YORK (AP)—Leo Durocher in the space of 18 hours talked himself into and out of a suspension by National League president Warren Giles.

It looked mighty black for him for a while Wednesday as the result of the bitter charges that National League umpires are ganging up on him.

Durocher saved his skin by retracting statements attributed to him after receiving a telegram from Giles. The league president threatened Leo with indefinite suspension unless he substantiated his charges or made a public retraction of them.

Leo not only said he "didn't mean it," but apologized to Giles by telephone. Giles accepted both the retraction and the apology.

Leo got into his latest jam as the result of a quote, attributed to him, in the New York Post. It read in part:

"Don't tell me they (the umpires) don't get together before the game and decide the first time a certain person says something he is going to be put out of the game. They do the same to Stanky, manager Eddie Stanky of the St. Louis Cardinals."

Favor Texas In NCAA Series

OMAHA (AP)—Texans looked mighty tall in the saddle today as they prepared to go off on the trail of the National Collegiate baseball title.

In the field of eight district champion teams in the NCAA's college world series opening here today, two are from Texas.

The University of Texas, three times an NCAA finalist and once the champion, was matched with Duke.

NEW YORK (NEA)—Although lightweight champion for two years, James William Carter is getting the first chance to establish himself as a worthy one defending the title against George Araujo in a 15-round match at Madison Square Garden, June 12.

It is the Bronx product's second defense in six weeks.

Jimmy Carter is the 135-pound version of Ezzard Charles, who as the heavyweight king just couldn't understand why they gave him the Bronx cheer after he obliterated an opponent. A thoroughly acceptable top-notch, Carter has never gotten much more than jeers from the public. Though home-grown, the lad who spent two and a half years with army engineers couldn't get a fight at the Garden until he so sur-

DRUMMING IT UP—Jimmy Carter did some fancy steps as (Kid Gavilan gave him the beat on a bongo at their Summit, N. J., camp. (NEA) pisingly knocked out old Ike Williams to win the crown. He has been called a nobody and hasn't been back since. His 10 knockdowns of built-up Tommy Collins in Boston gave him national notoriety and a good payday, but otherwise brought little more than criticism of the referee. Carter was just the guy who did the punching.

NOW CARTER SHOOTs the works against a dangerous fellow in Araujo—pronounced Ah-oo-joh.

Confidence abounds in the Carter camp, which looks for a knock out. Carter is a cruel body puncher, as is Charles, but unlike Ezzard the Gizzard, he has never been stopped and is anything but punch shy.

Carter's only mistake as champion—if losing a fight can be called that—was in his last title exchange with Lamo Salas, almost totally ill-equipped as anything other than a punching bag. Carter took a narrow decision in Los Angeles, then dropped the class leadership to and won it back from the willing Mexican. After all, prize fighting is a business and a bloke must have work.

Carter stalks his man slowly, firing punches at the body. He's one of those methodical fighters, who gets stronger as the proceedings wear on. He tosses a left hook to the body and then to the head in classic style. His right can hurt the other fellow.

This handicapper expects Araujo to take an early lead. It figures to be close at the end of the 10th, after which Carter should come or to win.

ARAUJO AT 22 is seven years younger, but Carter is hardly an ancient pappy guy at 29 and has the advantage of having traveled 15. Araujo, the converted southpaw, is also the choice of many. Araujo first zoomed to national prominence early last year when he scuffed up feather ruler Sandy Saddler and beat him easily in Boston.

Before that he had compiled 28 knockouts in his first 39 battles. He showed well in New York with a split decision over tough Paddy DeMarco and in knocking out Joe Brown.

Araujo keeps moving. He'll give ground if rushed, but his left hook can do things to the inside of a man's head. He is quick and capable and hasn't been stopped, but is in with a really tough article this trip.

This is the first title fight in New York in any division since Sugar Ray Robinson fell flat on his face in the heat at the feet of Joey Maxim, June 25 of last year. It's the first of two championship battles at the Garden within eight days. Two more are coming up.

It looks like the big town has been reinstated by the One Big Unhappy Monopoly.

Army Battles Rise in GI Use of Dope; Rings in Korea and Germany Broken Up

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
WASHINGTON (NEA)—The U. S. army is striking back hard at the use of narcotics among American GIs, which has risen sharply since the start of the Korean war.

In recent months, Army provost marshal special narcotics agents have helped break up international dope rings in the Far East and in Europe.

And among troops stationed in Korea, Japan and Okinawa, where narcotics cases are eight times greater than the Army-wide average, an intensive educational campaign is being waged to stamp out the use of dope.

One of the biggest recent blows against the drug traffic in Korea was the seizure near Pusan of 13 pounds of raw opium. U. S. Treasury agents worked with the Army's military police on the case, which is believed plugged an important source of raw drugs coming from Communist territory.

A South Korean, Kim Ha Wok, was arrested in the seizure. He admitted that the opium came to him from somewhere in North Korea. It is now in the hands of United Nations drug experts for analysis to try to determine exactly in what Communist country it was grown.

The Army will not say that there is any evidence in this specific case that the opium was sent to South Korea for espionage purposes, but the investigation is not closed. Further work may lead to more arrests of other key persons. Previously, according to the Army, a European ring which had an elaborate apparatus on the Continued for peddling narcotics to U. S. GIs was smashed with the arrest of its two ring-leaders.

After months of investigation a Chinese named Chong Chung and a British Negro, Eyo Asow, were arrested after the sale of two pounds of pure opium to a provost marshal agent in Hamburg, Germany. This is a very large amount of the drug and its confiscation dried up an important source for Anslinger, U. S. Commissioner of Narcotics. Anslinger, working through the United Nations, has led international police efforts to halt the world's dope traffic.

According to Brig. Gen. William H. Maglin, the Army's new Provost Marshal General, the total number of narcotics cases investigated by his men now runs approximately 2,000 per year.

That's just about the same proportion of cases found among the U. S. civilian population. The total number has grown in the Army in proportion to the increase in its size since the start of the Korean fighting.

Maglin explains that the incidence of dope cases among troops in the Far East is greater because narcotics are more readily available there. He is mum on the subject of dope being used as a Red espionage technique.

To supplement Maglin's increased police action against dope peddlers, the Army is conducting its educational campaign against the use of narcotics along the lines of fight against venereal disease.

On troopships headed for Korea, starting this summer, GIs will be shown a new movie depicting the dangers of using drugs and telling how to recognize peddlers. Lectures on the subject have been incorporated into the Army's troop information program.

The net results of this double thrust against the drug traffic will be to halt the increase, Maglin predicts. He wants to emphasize that cases of GIs actually peddling drugs are rare. They are customers.

For the 18 months from May 31, 1951, through last December, 176 GIs in the Far East were tried and convicted on dope charges. The penalty ranges from five years of hard labor to dishonorable discharge, or both.

Most of the GIs who have found themselves in trouble for using dope were found to have been users before they entered service, Maglin claims. Once a user gets into service, he says, his use of drugs is quickly detected because of close living conditions and supervision in the Army.

The Army policy is to give users and addicts, medical treatment "to relieve their anxiety."

"It is impossible to state with any degree of accuracy that a person has been cured prior to his separation from the service," Maglin explains. "His subsequent reaction to military treatment is determined by the individual's environment, will power, and mental outlook, after leaving the military services."

Nation's Reaction After War: 'Let's Get Back to Normal!'

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP)—The usual reaction after a war is: "Let's get back to normal in a hurry." It was that way after World War II. It shouldn't be that way if and when the Korean fighting ends.

After the last war—with Hitler dead, the Germans and Japanese crushed, and Russia a recent ally—this country's mood was to get the fighting men home and back into civilian life, disarm, mothball the fleet, ground the planes, rip off wartime controls, peel off wartime taxes, look forward to a bright and peaceful future.

What happened then was criticized later. It was credited with giving Russian Communism a great advantage since Russia never disarmed as this country did.

Want Them Home
Naturally the people with sons and loved ones in Korea want them to come back as soon as possible after a truce. But the people of this country have been prepared, by both the Truman and Eisenhower administrations, to expect many years of preparedness.

Everyone now seems fairly reconciled to paying high taxes—if not exactly as high as they pay at this moment—for years to come, because of the general belief that a big defense is necessary.

Under the plans of Secretary of Defense Wilson, the end of the Korean War doesn't call for a sharp cut in the size of the armed forces. The swing from shooting to truce could cause hardly a ripple in the daily life of the country.

Vast Disruption
World War II caused a vast disruption in the usual economic and social life of this country with about four times as many men in uniform as now, far more in government jobs than now, and millions doing work strictly for war. Absorbing them back into civilian life and occupations, changing the plants around from war work to civilian production, and getting the economy set on a peacetime basis was one of the great problems of history.

But now the economy is keyed to a certain pace of defense production, with a continuation for some time on schedule. The size of the armed forces won't be reduced suddenly. Those released from military service can be absorbed in civilian society easily.

High taxes, military preparations, big foreign aid are all abnormal conditions which have come to seem normal. If they suddenly stopped this country might suffer deeper damage and more difficult adjustment than after the last war.

Doctor Draft In Shape to Be Extended

WASHINGTON (AP)—The doctor draft law is in shape to be extended two years, but doctors with substantial military service will be exempt.

House-Senate conferees agreed Wednesday on a version compromising differences between bills passed by the two branches.

Doctors, dentists and veterinarians who served 21 months since Sept. 16, 1940, have no further obligation except in all-out emergency. Those who served 17 months are technically subject to call, but officials said they would not be reached under foreseeable demand.

Obligation remaining for others ranges from 15 months for those who served between 15 and 17 months to 21 months for those who served less than nine.

Maniac Seized For Threatening President Ike

NEW YORK (AP)—A man described by the Secret Service as a maniac has been seized for allegedly writing death threats to Presidents Eisenhower, Truman and Roosevelt.

The suspect, who gave his identity as Albert J. Drevney, 40, was arrested Wednesday in nearby New Rochelle, N. Y., where he was reporting for work on a new job.

Object of a nationwide hunt, Drevney was described as a "homicidal maniac" by Secret Service Chief U. E. Baughman.

In Washington, Baughman said Drevney mailed a death threat to Eisenhower from Lancaster, Pa., sometime in March.

The Secret Service head said Drevney was arrested in 1941 in San Francisco for writing threatening letters to President Roosevelt. Drevney also threatened the life of President Truman, Baughman said.

Drevney further was described as having been in half a dozen mental institutions during the past 12 years.

Douglas Wants P. O. Fund Cut

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.) asked the senate to lop $23,450,000 today off funds for postal operations in the coming year.

His amendment was offered to a house-passed bill carrying $3,444,115,000 to run the Treasury and Post Office departments in the new fiscal year starting July 1.

Douglas told the senate Wednesday he was "grievously disappointed" with the measure.

"The post office is notorious for its inefficiencies and we should force improvements," Douglas said. Among other things, he suggested consolidation of rural mail routes and "more letter carriers on bicycles and tricycles."

House Census Shows 9,765 Dwelling Units

WASHINGTON — (Special) — The 1950 census of housing enumerated 9,765 dwelling units in Lee county, Ill., according to final figures announced by District Supervisor Dayton P. Jorgenson of the Bureau of the Census.

The median value of one-dwelling unit nonfarm structures occupied by owners was $7,049. The median monthly contract rent paid by nonfarm renters was $35.99.

Of the 9,765 dwelling units counted in 1950, there were 9,481 occupied at the time of the census. Of the occupied dwelling units, 5,556, or 58.6 per cent, were occupied by owners.

Of the total dwelling units in the county, 81.4 per cent were single-dwelling unit detached structures; 10.9 per cent were in structures built in 1940 or later, and 61.2 per cent had hot running water, private flush toilet and were not dilapidated as measured by structural conditions and plumbing facilities.

This Town Literally Burns for 69 Years

By WADE JONES
NEW STRAITSVILLE, O. (NEA)—Somebody set fire to this place 69 years ago, and they haven't got it put out yet.

It was back in 1884, during a bitter strike in the local coal mines, that some of the dissident parties decided to set the mines on fire.

They got a string of loaded coal cars, soaked the coal in oil, lit a match, and sent the whole works roaring and flaming downgrade into the heart of the mine a mile under the hills.

The results were spectacular. The flames are still burning in what has come to be known as the biggest underground mine fire in the world.

Where there's fire, there's smoke. You can see it eddying skyward from all sorts of unlikely places—from under a hillside fern, from a creek bank, through the floorboards of a junked automobile.

Although the coal lies about 30 feet under the town proper the fires have produced some strange effects in New Straitsville.

The water in some cisterns has become so hot that housewives wash clothes in it as it comes from the wells. To drink the water, it must be artificially cooled.

In spots glass and plants grow in tropical lushness amid the winter snowdrifts.

When the underground flames got too close to the school house, classes were dismissed while nearby coal veins were scooped out and safety walls sunk as protection.

Some houses have caved in when the coal under the foundations burned out and the earth collapsed.

Back in 1885 one Sebastian Spicer, his team, and his wagon sank from sight in one of the deep fissures.

From time to time, the flames still sputter 50 feet high out of the ground and can be seen for 10 miles. In times past as many as 100,000 sightseers a year have come to New Straitsville.

While this reporter stood back at a safe distance, Paul Hatem, a local miner and volunteer fireman, set fire to a piece of cardboard by laying it on the ground.

This was a very eerie business. The only sign of fire was the smoke seeping up out of the ground and the bushes waving from the eddies of hot air. No visible flames. Yet the cardboard was burning briskly 15 seconds after it was laid on the ground.

W. J. Brown, who runs a barber shop here and who used to work in the mines, says the reason the fires can't be put out is that they keep getting fresh air from caves and new diggings.

It has been estimated that more than $60,000,000 worth of coal has been destroyed by fire so far. In the late 1890s the federal government sent hundreds of WPA workers beating through the local bushes in a $1,500,000 project to put out the fires.

They did some good, Brown says, by sinking shafts and filling them in with mud and water to isolate the burning areas. But they never did get all the fires out and they're still burning in about 50 different places.

Just the other day the highway about a mile out of town caved in because of fire underneath and you can see the new asphalt where they repaved it.

Oil was discovered in New Straitsville in 1909 and for a time thereafter, what with coal and oil, the town was booming with a population of 3,500.

But the oil began to peter out several years ago, the coal veins

Church Last Stronghold, Lutheran Leader Claims

CHICAGO (AP)—A Lutheran church leader said yesterday "we are no longer Americans" when "we submit supinely to the inquisition of self-appointed monitors of our consciences."

The Rev. Dr. Oscar A. Benson of Minneapolis told the 94th annual synod of the Augustana Lutheran church in his "president's message."

"The Christian church may yet prove to be the last stronghold of human liberty, the unflinching foe of communism and fascism alike."

No Names

He named no names nor did he mention the current congressional investigations of subversive activities in schools and of individuals.

"If America is to remain true to her pristine ideals, the church must continue steadfastly to nurture Christian citizens," the Lutheran church president said. "This is the ultimate objective of Christian education."

"We need teachers, both on the parish level and in our halls of higher learning who know of no other compulsion than devotion to eternal truth."

Chief Bulwarks

Dr. Benson quoted from what he said was "an official statement" which stated:

"Free ministers in free pulpits, preaching to free people the liberating truth of Christ, are the chief bulwarks of American freedom."

Dr. Benson referred to the slayings of missionaries in East Africa, and declared that "sending well-equipped armies from 'Christian' countries to slaughter these benighted natives is both stupid and inhuman."

Suggests Cure

He suggested that "the cure is to preach Christ, not least to the white invaders."

He said the killers of missionaries "have not yet learned to distinguish between unscrupulous white exploiters and friendly white Christians."

"Why does the white man always assume that he has the right to go into any continent he chooses and drive out the aborigines, stealing both their land and their natural resources," he asked.

Dr. Benson said the Lutheran church sent 26 new missionaries to foreign fields last year, but "unless ample appropriations become possible, our program will have to be curtailed."

He did not disclose the number of missionaries the church has

Three Perish in Auto, Truck Crash

GRANITE CITY, Ill. (AP)—Three Granite City residents were killed Wednesday night when their car collided head-on with a semi-tractor trailer truck about four miles north of here.

Dead are Mrs. Eula Aldridge, about 40, Edward C. Wallace, 32, and Kenneth King, 47. The truck driver, Louis Kastling, 52, of Elgin, Ill., was only slightly injured.

State police said the accident occurred on U. S. 67 when the victims' car passed a line of other vehicles and collided with the approaching truck.

Urges Wheat Gift To Red China

MEDFORD, Ore. (AP)—The president of the National Association of Wheat Growers urged Wednesday that this country send surplus wheat to Red China, where famine conditions have been reported.

It might help influence the Chinese away from Russia, said Jeff Teegerson of Pendleton, Ore., in a speech before the Oregon Grange.

'Tough' Driver's License Law Certain of Passage

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—A tough new driver's license law giving the state a "big stick" over habitual traffic offenders today appeared virtually certain of being written into the Illinois statutes.

The House gave it a hearty 123 to 3 endorsement Wednesday, and all that remained to set it up for Governor Stratton's signing was a Senate approval of a minor amendment.

It was Rep. Reed F. Cutler (R-Lewistown) who in House debate characterized the proposal as a "stick" over the heads of a small minority of motorists he blamed for the vast majority of accidents.

"These are people who would not be deterred by a tap on the wrists," he said.

Lacks Power

Cutler argued that Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter, chief architect of the legislation, now lacks the power he needs to curb use of the highways by chronic traffic law violators.

Under the bill, Carpenter would be given broad discretionary authority to suspend or revoke licenses for a variety of causes. His decisions would be subject to review.

Extensive files would be built up on violations involving automobiles in motion in order to get a line on the erratic few at whom the proposal is aimed.

Rep. Franklin U. Strinsky of Savannah, Republican majority leader, agreed that the bill would increase highway safety but strong objections to it came from Rep. G. William Holsley (R-Springfield).

Warns It's Arbitrary

"It places a tremendous amount of arbitrary power in one man's hands," Holsley contended. He said a revocation or suspension could be ordered before a motorist ever got a hearing in court, and that the bill conferred "judicial" powers on Carpenter.

Rep. Joseph B. Seimer (R-DeKalb) and Rep. Fred J. Smith (D-Chicago) joined Holsley in casting negative votes.

Sponsors said that 4 per cent of licensed drivers are involved in over 80 per cent of traffic accidents, and insurance company statistics bear this out.

ODM Receives More Authority At Midnight

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Office of Defense Mobilization receives at midnight complete authority to plan for a full mobilization instead of the partial mobilization it has managed during the 30 months of its existence.

President Eisenhower's reorganization plan No. 3, taking effect at midnight will be ODM's signal to undertake the drafting of standby legislation and on-the-shelf regulations for price, wage, rationing, manpower and other controls.

Under the presidential reorganization, ODM will assume the long-range planning responsibilities of the National Securities Resources Board, which passes out of existence, and the defense stockpiling responsibilities of the Munitions Board.

Worker, Burned By Acid, Dies

JOLIET, Ill. (AP)—Lloyd Jones 42, an acid handler at the Kankakee unit of the Joliet arsenal, died in a Joliet hospital today of burns suffered at the plant Wednesday.

Jones, formerly of Greenup, Ill., suffered burns over 70 per cent of his body when he and another handler, Robert Dunn, 24, attached a car to an acid unloader and the acid spilled on them.

Dunn also formerly of Greenup, also suffered burns and was in a Joliet hospital.

Ironie Touch

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP)—Undamaged by Tuesday night's tornado was this sign on the Worcester city hall:

"Worcester now leads the nation in safety. Help keep the record, now 15 deathless days."

'Look! No Pants!'

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Justice John Brett was overruled by fellow judges of the state criminal court of appeals Wednesday.

They felt he had gone overboard for comfort.

It was a hot day. Their judicial robes were warm.

When it came time to go on the bench, Judge Brett lifted his call length gown in the chambers and confided: "Look, no pants!"

Justices Dick Jones and John C. Powell won the resulting discussion, 2-1. Brett wore his britches in court.

Volcano Erupts

TOKYO (AP)—Mt. Aso, whose volcanic center is the world's largest, erupted Tuesday hurling rocks the size of a man's head.

No casualties were reported among the 60,000 Japanese residing on the broad floor of the crater, 10 miles long and 15 miles wide.

House Okays Bill to Create County Assessment Supervisor

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—The Illinois House Wednesday passed a bill to allow 91 counties under 150,000 population to create the office of county supervisor of assessments.

A vote of 100 to 17 referred the measure to the senate.

Rep. Louis Beckman (R-Kankakee), one of its principal boosters, said the bill represented a "step toward better assessing" of property and more equal distribution of the tax load.

Under the proposal, a county board could set up the new office and designate the supervisor, who would oversee elected township assessors and work for greater uniformity of assessments.

The supervisor would have the responsibility for development of detailed property records.

A referendum on creation of the office would be required if 5 per cent of registered voters of a county demanded it by petition.

Rep. W. O. Verhues (R-Vienna) led the opposition. He said the plan would saddle as much as $50,000 or $60,000 a year in added expense on counties that took advantage of it.

In other action, the House by a 78 to 11 vote approved and dispatched to the Senate a bill for a 10 hour work week for state employees. For the first eight hours over 40, an employee would be entitled to pay at one and one half times his base rate, and to double time thereafter.

Rep. Ben Rhodes (R-Normal) and other opponents said payroll costs would be forced higher, and that in the case of the welfare department, the state's largest, it would amount to 12 million dollars.

A measure to require employers to give the same pay to women as men receive for comparable work was defeated by the House. It drew 72 favorable votes, five short of the passage requirement. There were 46 negative votes.

Reps. Remice T. Van Der Vries (R-Winnemac) and Maud Pfeiffer (R-Aurora) said the bill would not help women, and voted against it. Rep. Lillian Piotrowski (D-Chicago) spoke in favor of it.

Fair Weather Is Outlook For Nation

By The Associated Press
Generally fair and mild weather—in sharp contrast to violent storms in some sections earlier this week—was the outlook for most of the nation today.
No stormy weather was reported throughout the country early today. There was light rain in Montana, Southern New Mexico and along the South Atlantic coast. But clear skies prevailed in the Great Lakes region, the Southern Great Plains and in the Far Southwest.
The hottest weather of the spring season continued in sections of Kansas, Texas, Oklahoma, Colorado and the Far Southwest. Temperatures again Wednesday climbed above 100 degrees in many cities.

According to a recent survey by Schenley Laboratories, Inc., Vermont has 434 practicing physicians to care for the state's medical needs. That's one physician for every 870 persons. This ratio places the Green Mountain state in the nation's top 10 states in number of active M.D.s per resident.
New York is number one with one physician for every 626 persons.
Other high-rating states include Massachusetts, Connecticut, Colorado, California, Illinois, New Jersey, New Hampshire and Pennsylvania.
Rhode Island ranks 12th and places five of the six New England states in the top 12.

BUTTER BARGAIN—These housewives seem to be enjoying buying butter at 55 cents a pound. The sale, in a New York supermarket, was part of an experiment by a butter company to prove to government officials that the current surplus in butter could be reduced by putting butter on a free market at lower prices. The farmers would then be guaranteed a fair income through increased sales.

Fear Heavy Crop Damage

DANVILLE, Ill. (AP)—Insect infestation in Vermilion County may result in a 30 to 50 percent crop loss, a survey indicates. Farmers said the high number of army worms, chinch bugs and

Queen's Husband Needs Sense of Humor-Plus

By HAL BOYLE
LONDON (U-P)—Last pages in a London notebook:
A Queen's husband needs more of a sense of humor than does a queen—particularly if she wears the only crown in the family.
The Duke of Edinburgh has this saving quality in good measure. He's a cheerful husband, and keeps his perspective in a tough role, one of the hardest that can fall to a man.

Not Easy
It isn't easy for a fellow to be required by law to kneel and pledge his loyalty to a woman—and salute her on formal occasions afterward—when he married her on his two feet and is the father of her children. It wouldn't be easy even for a modern-minded wife to have to do this for her husband, if their positions were reversed. In life it isn't customary to be required to salute the same person you kiss by choice.
Blithe Spirit
But the duke is a blithe spirit in a trying job. He goes through his palace paces in a completely gracious way, but he doesn't take royal duties as much to heart as does his queen-wife. They weigh upon him less heavily.
There is a high seriousness about Elizabeth, this young woman whom millions felt looked so small

Air Lines Have Their Problems With Odd Passengers, It Seems

NEW YORK (AP)—Many a traveler is up in the air before he's off the ground, it seems.

United Air Lines has just completed a serious study of what's funny in the way of air travel from coast to coast. These are some of the results:

A fellow walked into the line's Chicago office and asked, "do you serve champagne on your air-line?"

The ticket agent launched into a glowing spiel about the service, but finally admitted champagne was served only between the Pacific coast and Hawaii.

"All I want to know," the man said patiently, "is whether your airplanes fly to Champaign, Ill."

A live-talking customer slung told a New York agent that he wanted space on a flight that already had departed.

"Sir," said the agent, "that flight is gone."

"Man!" cried the hipster, "that's really crazy! I'll take two seats!"

An agent was approached in Los Angeles by a tired-looking man asking what was the gag. He'd been paged by every airline office at the terminal, but no one knew why. Turned out his name was A. Porter.

The line's New York office still is pondering a request from several convicts in a nearby penitentiary. They wrote requesting travel posters of the Far West.

A rather crochety lady booked a flight to Denver and then complained that her weak heart never would permit her to fly above 3,000 feet.

"But, madam," replied the ticket agent, "what will you do when you reach Denver? That city's a mile high."

"Oh," she said, "I thought it was on the ground."

19 Illinois Schools Will Share $33,000

CHICAGO (AP)—Nineteen privately endowed colleges in Illinois will share a $33,000 check presented by the Standard Oil Company of Indiana Wednesday to the Associated Colleges of Illinois, Inc.

Robert E. Wilson, Standard Oil chairman, who presented the check, said the money is the Illinois share of the $150,000 the company has set aside for distribution to private colleges in the 14 states in which it operates.

Receive Beloit College Degrees

BELOIT, WIS.—(Special)—Two students from Dixon were among the approximately 200 who received degrees from Beloit college June 7. It was the college's 103rd commencement. Harrison McDonald (left), son of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. McDonald of 412 E. Cham. Berlin st., received his degree in chemistry. While at Beloit, he served on the staff of the campus radio station and was a member of physics club. James Swanson (right), of Eustace dr., Assembly Park, received his degree in history. A member of Phi Kappa Psi national fraternity, he served as president and vice president of his chapter. He also served as president of the men's intramural council. Swanson participated in football, wrestling and was captain of the track team. His other activities included Future Teachers of America and "B" club.

Air Force Has Method Of Recovering Missiles

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force plans to recover spent guided missiles by steering them to a 7,500-foot runway in Florida.

This was reported today in an article, cleared by the Pentagon, in Mensanto Magazine, published by the Monsanto Chemical Co., St. Louis.

The article described the processes by which missiles are launched from the Cape Canaveral, Fla., Air Force test center, and sent out along a 1,000-mile course over the Bahamas toward the Caribbean area.

It said the landing strip was installed at Cape Canaveral recently to recover some types of missiles. "Directed from the ground by radio, the missile will be turned around, after it has completed its down range flight, and returned to the Cape," the magazine said.

The Air Force, long tightlipped on the missile-fring projects, also allowed the magazine to report that at present, no flight goes much beyond Grand Bahama, about 200 miles southeast of Cape Canaveral. As soon as additional stations are completed missiles may fly to Puerto Rico.

State's Winter Wheat Crop to Set 30-Year High

SPRINGFIELD — (P) — Illinois farms this summer are expected to yield the largest winter wheat crop in 30 years.

Prospects for a 48.8 million bushel harvest were reported by the Crop Reporting Service of the Illinois and U. S. Departments of Agriculture in a report issued Wednesday. The total is 82 per cent larger than the 10-year average.

"Recent weather conditions have been generally favorable for wheat and the crop has been unusually free from insect damage," the report continued. "The harvest should be 17 per cent larger than in 1952."

The service issued the following report on other grain crops in Illinois:

Rye—A crop of 504,000 bushels is indicated compared with 462,000 last year and a 10-year average of 639,000 bushels.

Corn—Planting is nearly completed in counties below Mattoon

In the east and below Greenville in the west. Scattered rains during the last week have relieved corn crops above mid-state but southern counties still lack rain for growing crops.

Soy Beans—About 10 to 15 per cent of this year's acreage has been planted.

Bonn Helps Aged

BONN, Germany — (P) —What is it about Bonn that makes young men feel old and the old as frisky as mountain goats? The climate says the local doctors.

They say it suits two types of people, the old and those who were born and bred in the Rhineland. But people from other parts of Germany—and foreigners especially—find it very trying.

It's s-o-o s-l-e-e-p-y.

Bonn is set between high hills on either side of the Rhine. It's like being down a rather damp and moist hole. Doctors say it is particularly bad for people with heart ailments. Non-natives complain of waking up tired and of minor ailments like flu and mumps.

Vanderbilt Files For 5th Divorce

RENO — (P) —Wealthy Cornelius Vanderbilt Jr., who once declared he had tried to be "a good husband to five of the world's most beautiful women," has filed secretly for a divorce from his fifth wife.

The millionaire lecturer, who charged extreme cruelty, was not available for comment.

In New York, his wife, Mrs. Patricia Murphy Wallace Vanderbilt, 33, was served with divorce papers Tuesday. Her attorney, Andrew Weinberg, said:

"It's nothing better than an ordinary mail-order type of divorce which this state (New York) will not recognize."

Weinberg said an injunction would be sought to prevent Vanderbilt from proceeding with the divorce. Last year, Mrs. Vanderbilt filed suit for separate maintenance in New York.

AWNINGS

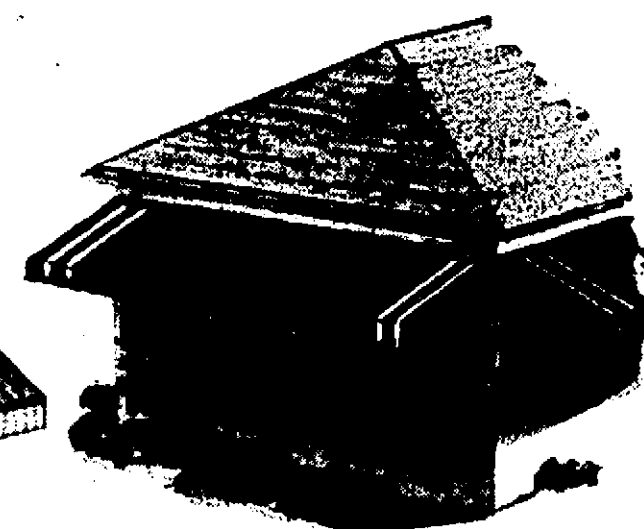

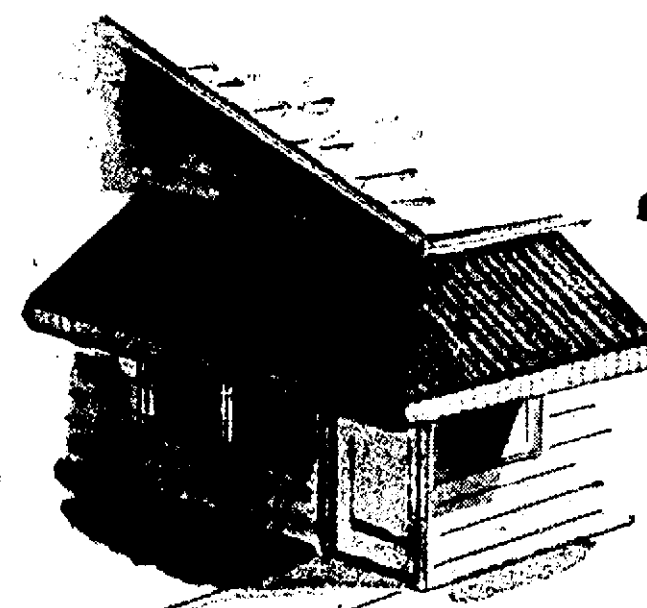

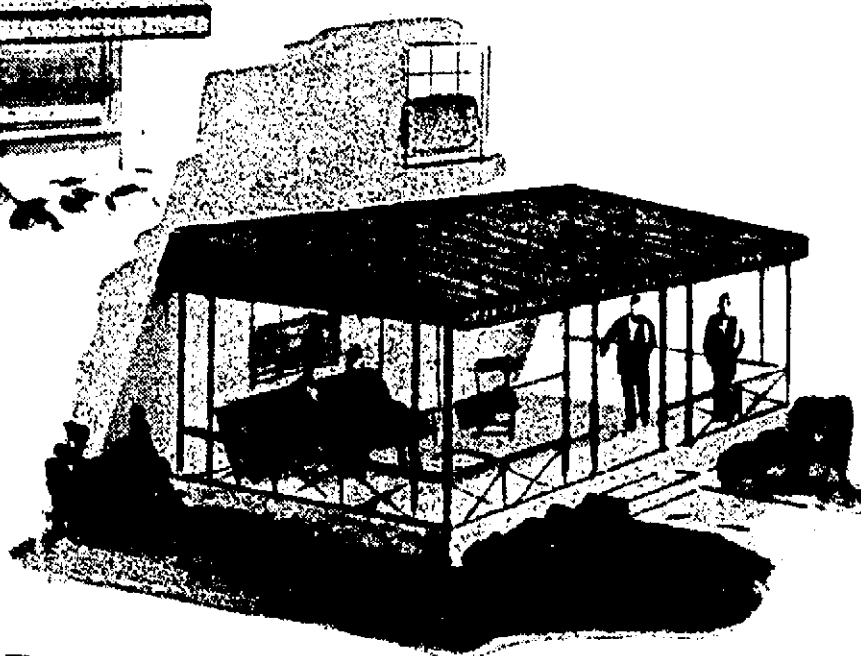

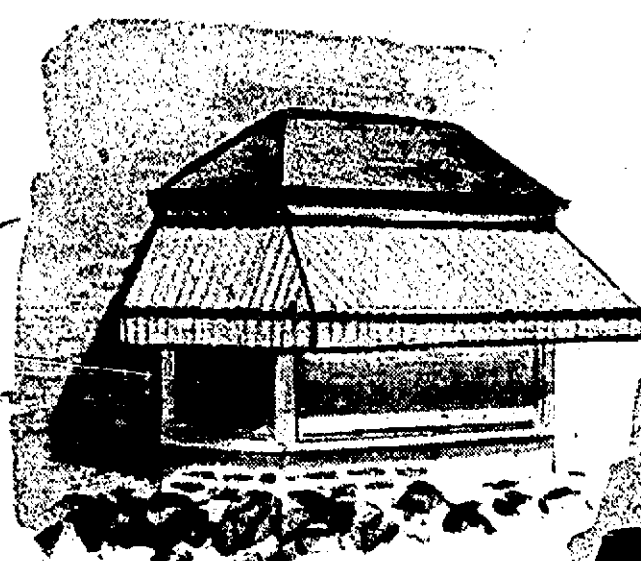

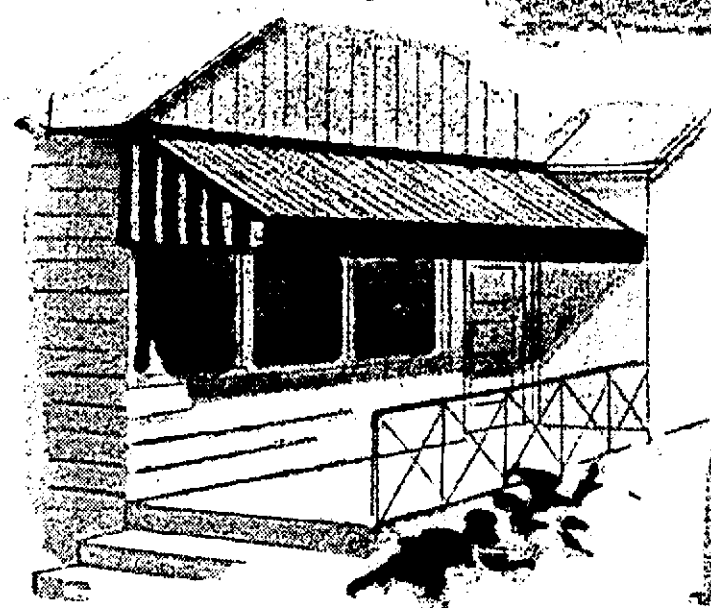

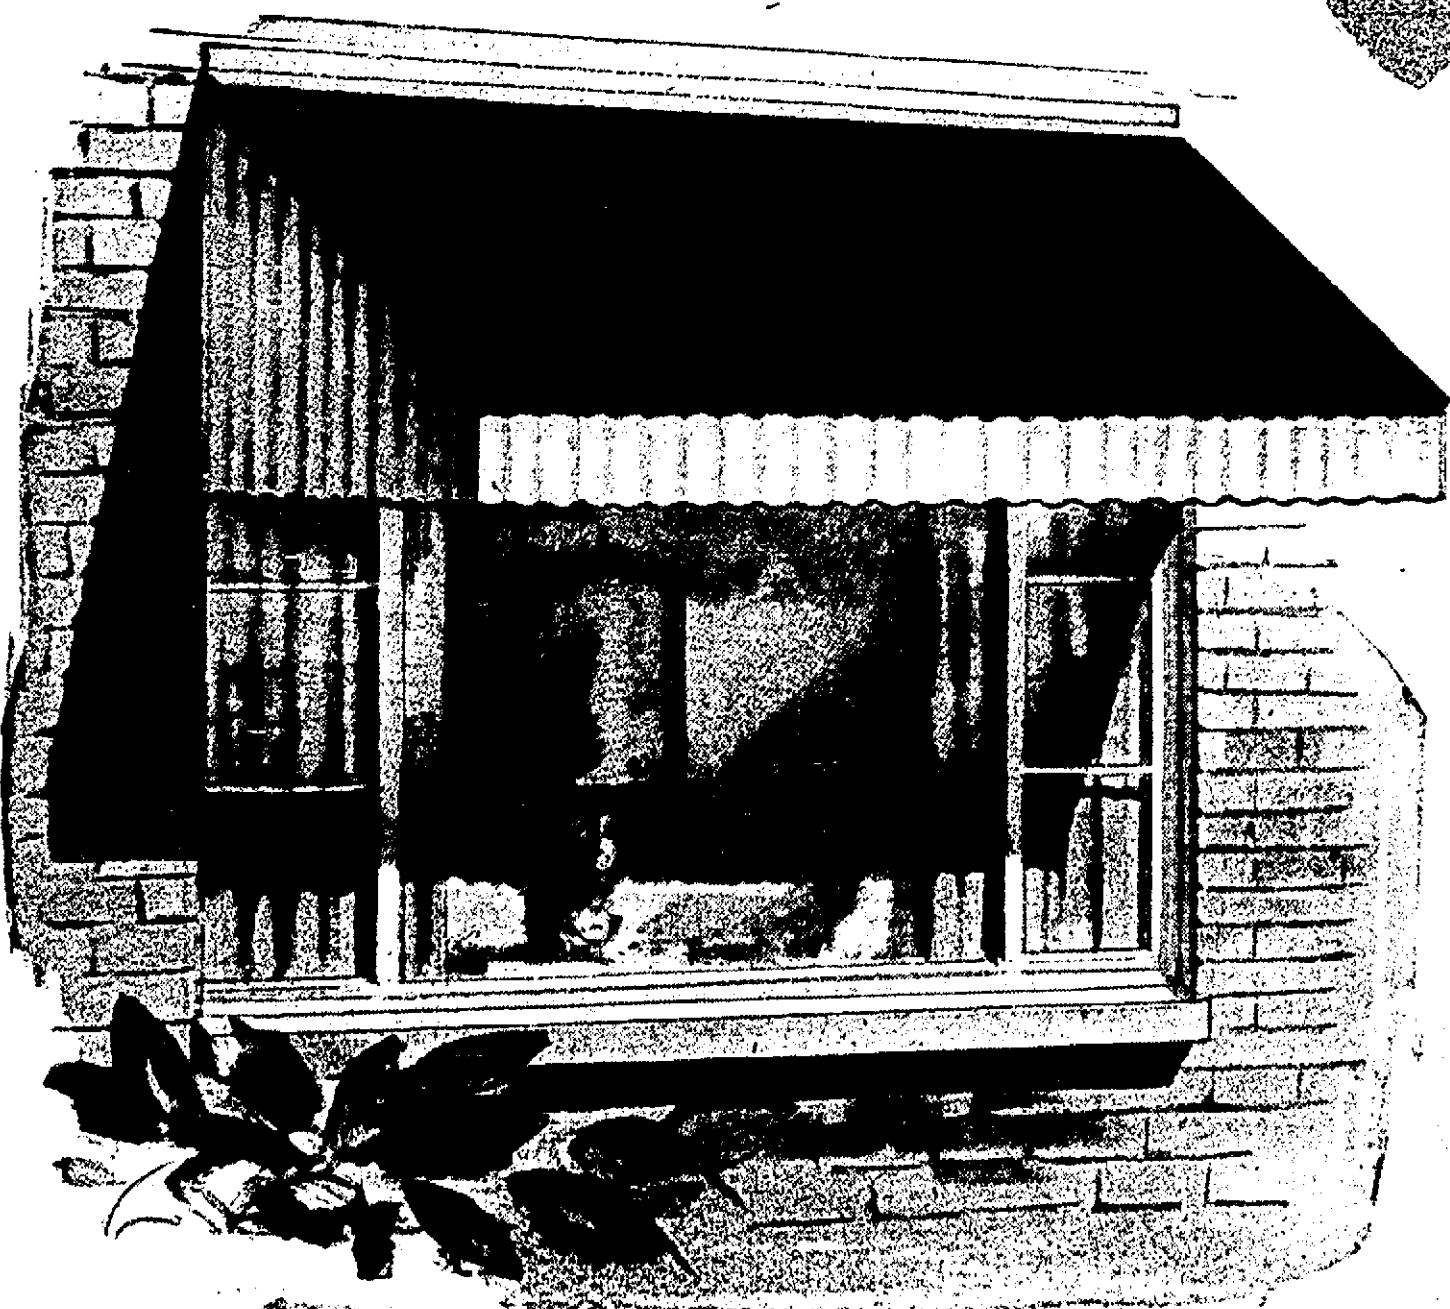

COLORFUL • TRANSLUCENT • ECONOMICAL

Shade Without Shadows

Increase the value as you beautify your home, Apartment Building, Store or Plant. Enjoy year 'round protection from rain, sleet, snow and the harsh burning rays of the sun—rays that fade your rugs, furniture and drapes. Fiberglas Awnings filter out those hot rays (actually make your home cooler in summer), but they do not stop the light. Light passing through Fiberglas Awnings is soft, diffused and delicately tinted.

Fiberglas Awnings are truly permanent: they can't chip, peel or crack, and the beautiful colors are sealed in permanently! They will never fade, never require painting. 9 Lovely colors to choose from—rich, deep tones and delicate pastels.

No down payment and easy, convenient FHA terms. For complete information—without any obligation on your part—phone 2-9011 or 4-3332 today, or mail the coupon below.
